

Play

(The U. S. Patent Office)
Land Ho, and No Skyscraper
Biplane Comes Aboard
One Dollar a Point
Why Women Play Well
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Copyright, 1934, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. International copyright and all rights reserved.

On Board Steamship Normandie, June 23—Four nights from New York and the ship is at Southampton. The tale of Wight is on your right. Passengers are landing from England. On your left is France, across the water. You had there later to day.

Old crossings passengers watched eagerly for the first land. Now crossing and landing are about as exciting as a trip by rail from Chicago to Lake Forest, or from Wall Street to Forty-second street by subway. You are in Europe before you realize that you have started. The poetry of travel has departed with that ship on the ocean and automobiles instead of camels on the desert.

Here you are, geographically speaking, in Lulliput, land of little countries. A map on deck indicates day with a line of light the progress reached by the ship and her course shows that you have reached a crowded continent, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Belgium. All sorts of small nations, close together. Several could be packed away in big Texas and leave plenty of room for cattle, oil and the exposition at Dallas.

Do not fail to see that exposition, by the way, and the second of the San Diego Exposition also on your "toing America First" tour this summer. San Bernardino County in California is bigger than some of these baby nations. Coming here is like reading "Gulliver's Travels" all over again.

You look at Southampton, home by important English city, and never see a skyscraper, not even a small one, such as Car Fisher built at Montauk Point, Long Island, among the fishing huts. This lack of civic pride among Americans from out West. They start the first skyscraper and the first skyscraper in the same week.

There are white gulls flying around, just like ours, homelike, and one American flag on the mast. U. S. battleship Wyoming. She is here on a training cruise for midshipmen. Let it hope that some enlightened officer on board will tell those young men that flying and later water football battleship sailing.

There is no harm left in the Wyoming. She was carefully steered to please Balfour Beatty, who is in the Washington conference, who suggested that we kill off our naval outposts in England, just then a little hard up. Three of the Wyoming's air turbines of the guns each have been pulled down. In all ways she is harmless as any European could wish.

At this moment, eleven-thirty a. m. English time, comes an exciting interlude. A small airplane of the British navy, that had been flying around this ship, decided to come too close, looked a wing on a tall steel crane and crashed, with engine broken and engine, exactly at the tip of the Normandie's bow.

Miraculously, the pilot was not killed, nor any of the Normandie's sailors, of whom more than fifty were handling trunks there the plane fell.

Much embarrassed was the young really-uniformed English officer, who immediately came aboard, and told the Normandie's captain:

"I am from the Royal Air Force and I hope you can get that plane off your ship. Just toss it into the water."

The Normandie's captain, M. Rene Puget, who was a pilot in the U. S. big war more than twenty years ago, was most politely afraid he could not do that. What was left of the British biplane must go on to Harve, to be removed there. It will be useful on the French side of the channel as an exhibit in computing damages to the French ship.

A slight tension exists between France and England just now, following those compulsory evacuations against Italy of every Frenchman will grieve at the sight of a French boat short into port with its English planes stranded across the bow. You feel sorry for the young English pilot of that biplane, who had quarter of an hour awaits his supporters.

Yesterday, June 21, was Saint John's Day, longest day in the year. From now days grow shorter. Already the year begins growing old. Tired Americans, business men, and sailors, who are tired of the opera by ambitious wives when they wanted to go to the "Moulin Rouge" at Saint John's Day. They sing about that day a great deal in Wagner's "Meistersinger."

In Europe, peasants light big bonfires on hills and mountainsides and hold festivals in honor of Saint John's Day. In America we are too busy to keep track of the days. Now it is June, soon you will see "The

Continued on Page 3, Column 1

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and probably Wednesday, but much change in temperature; gentle variable winds.

High tide: 2:15 a. m. 2:35 p. m.
Low tide: 8:15 a. m. 8:35 p. m.

Light at sunrise tonight at 5:55 a. m.

6 a. m. TEMPERATURES
Boston 55
New York 55
Chicago 55
Washington 55
San Francisco 55
(Full Report on Page 50)

VOL. XXXIII—NO. 80

BOSTON THE AMERICAN

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

The only Boston evening newspaper with three direct news services—Associated Press, International News Service and Universal Service.

Copyright, 1934, by N. E. Newspaper Publishing Co.

TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1936

PRICE: CENTS

WINE FREE 4 CENTS

7 LATEST MARKETS

G. O. P. TICKET BASTED BY FALEY

2 Die in No. Reading Suicide Pact

BODIES FOUND IN COTTAGE

The bodies of a Melrose man and a Beverly woman, who had been dead more than two days, were found today in a summer cottage on the shore of Martin's Pond, North Reading.

Police said it was a suicide pact and that death was caused by poison. A murder theory was not entirely abandoned, however.

The woman was Mrs. Marjorie Truitt of Newbury street, Beverly, and the man was John Griffin, 41, of Lovell road, Melrose, according to police.

IN LAST EMBRACE
The bodies were lying across the bed and the couple died embracing each other. Griffin was clad in white green figured pajamas and the woman in an orange-colored slip.

The bodies were discovered by Dr. Joseph Knowles, a dentist, who had rented the cottage to the couple Sunday evening.

Griffin had been missing since Sunday afternoon, when his wife, Mrs. Ada Griffin, who said she reported his disappearance to the Melrose police, Sunday.

"That woman's husband told me Sunday afternoon that they had driven away together," said Mrs. Griffin.

POISON IN GLASSES
According to Dr. Knowles, the couple rented the cottage from him at 6 p. m. Saturday and said they would remain until 9 a. m. today.

When they did not return the key at 10 o'clock, he went to the house. He found the door locked and peered in a first floor window. Seeing the couple on the bed, apparently dead, he notified Police Chief Thomas Crowswell, who entered the house with Corporal James Winn of the state police.

Setting the couple on the bed, a table near the bed and each containing a glass of a white powder, police could not account for the third glass. They believe the powder, administered by Dr. Roscoe D. Perley, the medical examiner, whose arrival was delayed by an operation.

The Senator Wants:

Ticket Sandwich, Bay State Flavor

Philadelphia, June 23—The Senator is wearing a fine indoor sunburn and a port list when he comes leading into the Adelphi bar under 50 pounds of bullet of badges.

On second thought it is maybe a sherry list but anyway it is a list, and from the spinmaker boom he is flying a large placard which announces as follows:

"Governor Jim for Vice President."

"Senator," says Timmy, like he has been there all the time, "you are the first Democrat I see that does not look like he has just died."

"Timmy," says the Senator, "I have not closely observed the constitution of the white wings but the deep concern which you have for the other members of the party and their walking delegates, now reported to be thundering noise instead of rids."

"The boom for Governor Jim for Vice President is a direct result of the triple threat but is chiefly caused by the Lemke third party."

"All of the Massachusetts boys are for it and some of the Malays, Continued on Page 5, Column 2

STOCKS EASE

New York, June 23 (INS)—Led by rails, stocks turned irregularly lower today after an opening rally. Profit-taking followed in the afternoon, but a few hours. He was 57 years old.

WPA to Continue 'Security' Wages

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, the works administrator, directed today to continue the present $18 to $24 monthly "security" wages.

SUFFOLK DOWNS RESULTS

FIRST RACE—Purses $100; maiden fillies; two-year-olds. Five runners.

- | | | |
|---------------|--------------|-------------------|
| 1—Irish | 5—Trullis | 9—Cavallini Miss |
| 2—Swift Flash | 6—Sweet Well | 10—Jewell Dorsett |
| 3—Willow Bud | 7—Bladins | 11—Patty Comiza |
| 4—Jameville | 8—Comelostat | 12—Cystostis |

Scratched—Mulle N. Saratoga.

First Second Third

10 3 2

CURLEY OK'S BID FOR 2D PLACE

Governor Curley revealed today that he is in a receptive mood regarding the Democratic nomination for Vice-President, for which western delegates are to boom him at the Philadelphia national convention.

Although the governor denied knowing anything about the boom, he indicated he was not surprised, and he said he would accept the nomination if it is tendered to him.

Shown a dispatch from Bernard J. Doherty, Boston Evening Ameri-can, that he is in a receptive mood regarding the Democratic nomination for Vice-President, for which western delegates are to boom him at the Philadelphia national convention.

"I don't know anything about this plan to boom me for Vice-President, but I do know there are about twelve Curleys for President in 1940. Clute on the West Coast."

CLUTE ORGANIZED
"Some of them were already there when I passed through that section, campaigning for Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932."

"Seven of them are in California and some of them correspond with me occasionally."

Denied in his office at the State House, where he read Bernard J. Doherty's dispatch in earlier editions of the Boston Evening American, the governor was asked:

"Will you accept the vice-presidential nomination if it is tendered to you?"

The governor replied: "I have no idea it will be tendered, but if it is, and if I will accept. And it would be tantamount to election."

With a hearty laugh and a glance around the room, where newspapermen were taking down his words, he added:

"Not even my innale modesty"

Continued on Page 5, Column 1

Baldwin Censure Moved in Commons

London, June 23 (INS)—A vote of censure against the Baldwin government's foreign policy was moved in the House of Commons today by Clement Attlee on behalf of the Labor Party.

Attlee vigorously attacked the government for its decision to abandon sanctions against Italy.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at the convention today.

Starting Deal Party Show at Philadelphia

NEW DEALERS' MEETING ON WITH CALL TO FIGHT

By GEORGE DURNON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 23—Branding the Republican party with the "dollar mark" of the "duPont Liberty League and its allies," Postmaster-General James A. Farley this afternoon formally opened the 1936 Democratic national convention which will renominate President Roosevelt.

While delegates and partisan spectators jamming Philadelphia's big convention hall cheered wildly, "Big Jim" denounced the G. O. P. ticket of Landon and Knox as a pair of lackeys.

He charged that their platform tried to carry water on both shoulders to catch the fancy of eastern conservatism and western liberalism.

IGNORES THIRD PARTY
Some 1100 delegates, an equal number of alternates, and thousands of visitors who packed the galleries to the point of suffocation roared their acclamation of Farley's blunt definition of the "issue."

Ignoring alike the third party threat of Representative William Lemke and his Union ticket, and the backhanded swipe at the party taken by Al Smith, Farley sent the convention off on an enthusiastic beginning by proclaiming at the outset:

"The issue is the continuance of the New Deal."

That, said Farley, is the sole question before the convention and before the country.

"It is clear-cut," he said, "and cannot be disguised, shall we continue the New Deal, which has rescued our country from disaster and despair, or shall we turn back?"

Continued on Page 2, Column 7

TAX BILL SIGNED BY ROOSEVELT

BY ROOSEVELT LBS. ON VON

Washington, June 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the new tax bill and the $100,000,000 interior department appropriation bill.

Signing of the long-controverted tax measure, designed to raise $800,000,000 through a sweeping revision of corporate taxes and other levies, cleared the President's desk of major legislation passed by the Congress just gone home.

Signing of the Declaration of Independence, 160 Years Ago. An Historical Print Reproduced in Full Color in The American Weekly, the Magazine Distributed With the June 23 Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Signing of the Declaration of Independence, 160 Years Ago. An Historical Print Reproduced in Full Color in The American Weekly, the Magazine Distributed With the June 23 Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Signing of the Declaration of Independence, 160 Years Ago. An Historical Print Reproduced in Full Color in The American Weekly, the Magazine Distributed With the June 23 Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Signing of the Declaration of Independence, 160 Years Ago. An Historical Print Reproduced in Full Color in The American Weekly, the Magazine Distributed With the June 23 Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Signing of the Declaration of Independence, 160 Years Ago. An Historical Print Reproduced in Full Color in The American Weekly, the Magazine Distributed With the June 23 Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Today's American

- | | |
|----------------------|----|
| AMUSEMENTS | 18 |
| AUSTIN LAKE | 18 |
| BIBBEN LAKE | 18 |
| CLASSIFIED ADVS. | 18 |
| COMICS | 18 |
| CROSSWORD PUZZLE | 18 |
| EDITORIAL | 18 |
| G. H. HILL | 18 |
| LESLIE ROBINSON | 18 |
| PANAMA | 18 |
| FINANCIAL | 18 |
| FLOYD GIBBONS | 18 |
| GIRL ABOUT TOWN | 18 |
| JOE PALAFO | 18 |
| JOSEPH PARSONS | 18 |
| O. G. MEYER | 18 |
| REX STARS | 18 |
| ROBERT K. ROGERS | 18 |
| SEVEN STARS | 18 |
| STEWART SHOZE | 18 |
| SOCIETY | 18 |
| SPORTS | 18 |
| "WHEN I LOVED YOU" | 18 |
| YOUR FUTURE, MADAME? | 18 |

LEARN DICK POWELL'S VOICE IMPROVED AFTER OPERATION IN HOLLYWOOD

Turn to Page 1, Section 2

DOLAN School Fund LINKED TEACHER TELLS OF BOND BUYS

Miss Josephine Westworth, secretary of the Boston School Teachers' Retirement Fund, testified in Suffolk superior court today that Edmund L. Dolan, city treasurer, made two bond purchases totalling $35,000 through Legal Securities Corporation for their fund.

Under cross-examination by Thomas H. Mahony, chief of defense counsel for Dolan and six others, now on trial in a suit through which the city seeks to recover $350,000, Miss Westworth admitted that the School Teachers' fund was a "distinct organization made up of Boston school teachers whose members were voted in on appointment."

Mahony then asked the court to order that he be allowed to see the records of all purchases of bonds and all copies of letters sent by the retirement board to Dolan in the years of 1930 to 1934, to show that the board bought thousands of dollars of bonds outside those bought through Dolan.

"It's quite a task you're assigning the witness," Judge Edward F. Hanly said, but he gave the order.

It was finally agreed that Miss Westworth would bring just specific letters requested by the defense.

Mary L. Mullaney Bride of Leen

The month of June added another wedding to its roll today when Miss Mary L. Mullaney, 21, of Dorchester became the bride of Asst. U. S. Atty. Henry M. Leen, 28, also of Dorchester, at a nuptial mass in St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mullaney of Adams street, Dorchester. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Leen of Broadway street, Dorchester. The Rev. Francis Dolan performed the ceremony.

Katherine Mullaney, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, with Helen Martineau of Brookline and Alice Gallagher of Dorchester as bridesmaids.

Best man was Dr. William F. Flynn of Dorchester, and the ushers were Charles J. Dunn, Thomas Foley, Edward H. Lee, C. Owen Donohy, Henry M. Leen, and Thomas E. Leen, all of Dorchester.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in Hotel Dorchester.

The couple will take a honeymoon trip to Bermuda, and upon returning, will reside on Milton avenue, Dorchester.

R. I. CANDIDATE VOWS 'CLEAN GOVERNMENT'

(This is the last of three interviews with the unusually prominent William H. Vanderbilt of Newport, R. I. In previous articles in the Sunday Advertiser and Boston American, Mrs. Vanderbilt told what a capable wife should do to aid her husband's political aims. Today Mrs. Vanderbilt, a possible O. O. P. nominee for the governorship of Rhode Island, gives his views of the political scene in his state.)

Newport, R. I., June 22.—If the Republicans of Little Rhode should nominate former State Senator William H. Vanderbilt for governor next fall, he'll see to it that his state will get a clear, honest and economic administration.

If some other man is chosen, the young son of proud Dutch stock will get behind the ticket and do all he can to help—even at the sacrifice of personal ambitions.

These facts and others, the handsome gentleman farmer revealed in an informal interview at Oakland Farm, his 400-acre estate at Portsmouth, R. I.

With his charming wife who comes from a political family herself, beside him, the young scion—be it said—smoked a pipe and aired his views.

G. O. P. Victory

He secured the Democratic party, now in power, for certain defects of its regime, yet lauded others of a constructive nature.

"I feel that the Republicans will definitely win in the elections this year—right down the line from national to state tickets," Mr. Vanderbilt said.

"The important thing is for everyone to get away from personal ambition and build up harmony on that a solid front may be presented."

"There is a great opportunity in Rhode Island now. The Democrats went in two years ago with a constructive job. They had complete control of the state but apparently didn't realize that with this went complete responsibility."

"Instead of giving us decent, progressive, orderly government, they have perhaps made the state the most perfect example of how a state should not be governed."

Golden Chance

Citing what the G. O. P. will accomplish if victorious, he said:

"When the Republicans come in this fall they will have the same golden opportunity to eradicate the government demerit."

Vanderbilt Pledges

The socially prominent William H. Vanderbilts of Newport, R. I., have a boat on their lily pond for the children. During warm evenings Vanderbilt and wife sit in the boat and chat. Politics is discussed in quietude. Don't complain of that rowing technique. The paddle is about eight inches across the face. The boat is not made for speed.

These facts and others, the handsome gentleman farmer revealed in an informal interview at Oakland Farm, his 400-acre estate at Portsmouth, R. I.

With his charming wife who comes from a political family herself, beside him, the young scion—be it said—smoked a pipe and aired his views.

G. O. P. Victory

He secured the Democratic party, now in power, for certain defects of its regime, yet lauded others of a constructive nature.

"I feel that the Republicans will definitely win in the elections this year—right down the line from national to state tickets," Mr. Vanderbilt said.

"The important thing is for everyone to get away from personal ambition and build up harmony on that a solid front may be presented."

"There is a great opportunity in Rhode Island now. The Democrats went in two years ago with a constructive job. They had complete control of the state but apparently didn't realize that with this went complete responsibility."

"Instead of giving us decent, progressive, orderly government, they have perhaps made the state the most perfect example of how a state should not be governed."

Golden Chance

Citing what the G. O. P. will accomplish if victorious, he said:

"When the Republicans come in this fall they will have the same golden opportunity to eradicate the government demerit."

'Unkissed' Husband Set Free

Harry Rantz, 25, "unkissed husband" of a Somerville girl, was granted a divorce by Judge Edward B. O'Brien of Essex County Superior Court, who heard his story yesterday at a hearing in Newburyport.

Rantz testified he proposed to Doris M. Silva, 21, in a rumble seat, one day in 1932, and they were married in Kittery, Me. An hour after the marriage he left her, he declared, and he tried to obtain an annulment but failed.

Mrs. Viola N. Scoville, 37, of Beach street, Haverhill, was granted a divorce from Zedon Scoville of Lawrence, who she said, three widows in her face. She added that he slept with his shoes on.

Mrs. Amelia G. Fitzgerald of Salem was granted a divorce from Robert Fitzgerald for alleged cruelty.

Flier, 3 Children Drown Off Cuba

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 23 (AP).—The drowning of Mrs. L. J. Adams, Lindsey M. Bawel, an army flier, and three of his small children, when they went aboard from the army transport station Thierry, near Cuba, was disclosed today by Captain Gordon S. Ames at the Brooklyn army hospital.

Captain Ames said the tragedy occurred between 3 and 4 a. m., but the message did not explain how the tragedy occurred. The children were five, three, and two years old.

Ames said the family had been stationed at Albrook Field, Santa Clara, and was returning on the transport to New York. It is due here Friday.

Girl of 16 Wins $400 Scholarship

Sixteen-year-old Anita G. Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Pearl of Alford street, Dorchester, has been awarded a $400 scholarship by the Paria College of Liberal Arts and Law, it was announced today.

Miss Pearl, who will be graduated from Dorchester High School for Girls this week, is a high ranking scholar. Active in social affairs, she served on the advisory board of the Sub-Junior Y. M. C. A.

Sphorner Arrested On Wife's Charge

Al Sphorner, former catcher for the Boston Braves, was arrested here today, charged with being a fugitive from justice from Philadelphia. Police said he is wanted on a warrant sworn out by his wife.

Sphorner's wife has charged him with desertion and neglect to provide for herself and two children, according to the police.

The former ball player, now in the contracting business, was arrested at his office, 1 Beach street by Detective Paul Conway and John P. Tobin of headquarters.

He was assigned before Judge Francis J. Good in municipal court, and the case was continued one week on request of Sphorner's counsel. He was released on $500 bail. Sphorner sued his wife for divorce in 1934 and, several months later, she filed a counter divorce suit. Last year she was awarded $27.50 a week, separate support, which he later had reduced to $15.

No Rain, No Heat Sighted for N. E.

There's hardly a raincloud in sight anywhere, the weatherman said today. There isn't any chance of an immediate downpour, either. The mercury was at 56 degrees at 7 a. m., but by the middle of the day had reached the 70s. The highest June 23 was in 1935, with a high of 96 degrees.

KING'S Birthday POMP

EDWARD IS 42, COLORS DIP

London, June 23 (INS).—With the historic ceremony of trooping the colors in London, and royal salutes and parades all over the empire, the 42nd birthday of King Edward VIII—his first birthday as king—was celebrated by countless millions today.

Mounted on a chestnut charger and wearing the scarlet tunic and black bearskin of colonel-in-chief of his old regiment, the Grenadier Guards, the slim monarch rode at the head of a glittering military cavalcade from Buckingham Palace to the Horse Guards' parade ground a mile away.

There he inspected the picked contingent of his guards and watched the Grenadiers' colors "trooped" down the line in an old military formula. Then he returned at the head of the detachment to Buckingham Palace, where he took the salute from the main gateway. Cheers thousands lined the route.

Cannon Boom

Bahlin him rode his brother-in-law, the heir-apparent, the Duke of York, field marshals and generals, and British military attaches, among them the American in order kind, Quon Meri and other feminine royalty looked on.

While cannon boomed 21-gun salutes in nearby Hyde Park, King Edward gave a luncheon party for the royal family.

Flags flew from all public buildings, men wore boutonnieres and a tremendous flood of congratulations, including a message from President Roosevelt, poured into the palace.

Salutes were fired from ships and military stations.

The King created four new peers as part of his first birthday honors. He promoted Lord Dawson of Trent, the late King George's physician, from Baron to Viscount, and knighted five.

Honoring Queen Mary, he made his mother a Dame of the Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order—the first time the highest rank of that order has ever been employed.

Margaret Sullivan In Hospital

MARGARET SULLIVAN

New York, June 23 (INS).—Broadway was confronted with a minor mystery today.

What was the ailment or injury that kept Margaret Sullivan, screen star, in a hospital for nearly four days?

The actress entered Flower Hospital last Friday. Everything was shrouded in the utmost secrecy. Yesterday Miss Sullivan left the hospital, her departure as quiet as her entrance.

Broadway believes she may have been hurt in a fall or some other minor accident.

GUNMAN ROBS MERCHANT

Israel Cohen, 48, proprietor of a variety store on Chelsea street, Charlestown, was on his way home today when at Adams and Chelsea streets a man stepped from a hallway and pulled a gun into Cohen's stomach, with the demand, "Give me all you got."

Cohen pulled out his billfold and handed over $11. The bandit demanded more whereupon Cohen found another $7 in cash and a check for $180.

Cohen was then ordered to return to his store, but instead he went at once to City Square police station, where he described his assailant as about 25, wearing checkered cap, white shirt and red plaid lumber jacket.

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY

Sports winners every one!

STETSON Shoes

man tailored for women athletes

The classic saddle oxford. White elk with tan calf saddle. Superbly manufactured by Stetson. Daresole very light and flexible. $8.75ible.

Excellent spectator sport shoe is this fine white buckskin with brown calf trim. Daresole excellent for standing, walking or riding a bicycle. Also in white. $10.50

Other Stetson Sport Shoes $8.75-$10.50

Mail or phone orders filled. Call HUBBARD 2700 until 10 p. m.

BETTER SHOE SHOP—THIRD FLOOR—MAIN STREET

WE CAN ATTEND

We have made arrangements to cash your bonus checks—without any obligation on your part. Just bring your discharge papers or other suitable identification. We are glad to offer this service as part of our continued close cooperation with all Veteran organizations.

BOND CLOTHES

Member Servicemen's Stores
Corner Washington and Essex
OPEN SATURDAY EVENING UNTIL 9 P. M.
PROVIDENCE—165 WEYBOSSET ST.

Three Distinctive Whiskies in this fine blend

Has had no peers for 50 years

Golden Wedding

Schenley's finest blend of Straight Whiskies

90 PROOF
As you prefer in BOURBON
—BYE

© 1936, Jas. S. Finch & Co., Inc., Schenley, Pa.

PLATE MEET 'SWINGS TO LEFT'

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Philadelphia, June 23.—President Roosevelt's original platform for the 1936 campaign was being liberalized today by his confidential platform-writers in a "swing to the left," apparently initiated to offset the threat of the Lemke-O'Brien third party ticket.

Democratic convention leaders were reported reverting to the original drafts of the farm and labor planks in an effort to maintain Roosevelt popularity among farmers and organized workers, who might otherwise bolt to the third party. Both planks were being drafted in far more liberal terms than proposed in the original selective platform.

The new tentative platform was said to include a promise of "crop insurance" to American agriculturists. The labor plank was said to pledge federal aid of some sort to remedy conditions in the coal industry. The latter plank was said to meet the approval of John L. Lewis, United Mine chairman, who expressed disgust when Congress failed to enact the new Guffey coal control act.

PLANS APPROVED
The planks on money, relief, foreign affairs and monopoly were reported completed and approved by the President. The money plank carried an outright declaration that no effort will be made to restrict any return to the gold standard, a pledge to maintain sound currency "with steadily purchasing power for the dollar."

The relief plank was expected to defend the present WPA setup as successful and proper, with a declaration of the Republican proposal for turning relief control over to the states. The draft called for a reduction of relief costs as soon as private industry absorbs the unemployed, but with a promise to let no citizen starve.

The foreign affairs plank boasted of President Roosevelt's "neighborly" policy, pledged America's "moral aid" to the world in the maintenance of peace and prevention of war but was silent about the League of Nations and the World Court.

The monopoly plank declared for vigorous and fearless enforcement of the anti-trust laws, denounced dishonest enterprises and promised protection for wage-earners. It carried in its initiative and a specific denunciation of the "housing-point" principle of price-fixing.

MEETS THREAT
Liberalization of the original platform, though in generalities, a rule, was reported ordered by the President as a political move to meet the third party threat of Rep. William Lemke (R.) of North Dakota and Thomas O'Brien, his Democratic ally.

Some final decisions on planks were reported at a White House conference between the President, William C. Bullitt, ambassador in Russia, Donald L. Rieberg, ex-WPA head, and Harry L. Hopkins, WPA chief.

The platform was guarded like a wartime secret. Some observers believed the secrecy was due largely to the fact that the document was being rewritten in Washington during the last 48 hours and that convention leaders knew little or nothing about it.

DENOUNCED WAR
Feminine Democrats' masculine hold a caucus, named a platform committee and drafted a plank they will propose for inclusion in the platform. It denounced war, praised reciprocal trade agreements, urged treaty legislation and the Kellogg pact, and demanded that the defense program, based upon self-protection, and legislation to take the profits out of war.

As a result of the conference, the women will go before the resolutions committee and for the first time since they banded for the suffrage try to write an important plank into the platform. They were doomed to defeat as private anti-disasters, without an okay from the White House.

Only one thing was certain about the final platform. "This was that it will be exactly what President Roosevelt desires."

Regular $5
COUPON
Permanent

New,
NON-AMMONIA
SOLUTION!
For Your Toilet!
Special

50
Complete

DICKEY'S
BEAUTY SALON

92 Tremont St.
3rd Floor, Suite 101-2
Phone LAF. 9613

"Coupon Clippers" Off For Provincetown

(Picture from International News Photograph Service)

Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser free coupon made this an inexpensive outing for many of the excursionists crowding the S. S. Steel Pier on its excursion to Provincetown today. Coupon-clippers paid only half fares, adults saving $1, children 50 cents. A swell day, a big time—and you can be aboard, too, when the next similar "economy" trip is scheduled. Watch for announcements in the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

The council probably won't get its information until the racing season is over, the governor presides. "When the racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The executive council adopted the racing commission order as filed by Lieutenant-Governor Hurley over some strenuous objections. But notice was served today on the commissioners.

Attaches at the commission's office pleaded that they were too busy to furnish the desired information immediately and said that it might be ready in two days or so.

The governor made his first comment on the procedure. "The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

The racing season is over, the elections will be over, and that will be the end of that!"

LEMKE TO TALK WITH ALLIES

Washington, June 23 (INS).—Representative William Lemke (R.) of North Dakota announced today that he will have a series of conferences with spokesmen for the Townsend plan, Sherrill C. Weathers and Father Coughlin's forces prior to establishing headquarters in Chicago for the newly-formed Union party.

Lemke said he hoped to meet the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin in Detroit Friday. Father Coughlin already has announced his support of Lemke as presidential nominee of the Union party.

It is possible the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, follower of the late Senator Long and head of the short-lived group, and Dr. F. E. Townsend and one of Father Coughlin's representatives will see Lemke in Washington today or tomorrow.

Representative Burdick (R.) of North Dakota, who recently organized a House "liberal" bloc to revise the drastic House parliamentary rules, said he would swing the group behind the Lemke presidential drive.

MURDER STORY HOAX

N.Y. 'Confession' Repudiated

A New York aftermath of Boston's famous "tea store" murder cases of 20 years ago was reported at police headquarters here today.

The report branded as a hoax a Manhattan state hospital inmate's "confession" to the 1912 slaying of Patrolman Albert R. Peterson in the West End.

The inmate, the inmate, admitted yesterday to Boston detectives that he had concocted the "murder" story after reading of a similar case in a newspaper which made to the "tea store" killing.

Released in New York to go on trial for murder in Massachusetts, Murphy repudiated his confession and was acquitted.

The Hollis brothers of Boston got life sentences for the crime, but were subsequently pardoned after serving many years at Charlestown.

Detectives, returning from New York today, quoted Leonard as saying: "I thought if Jones Murphy got out from behind bars with a false confession I could do it too."

"But I didn't kill Peterson. I was serving a full sentence at the time of that murder. The records will prove it."

Wherever you go on your vacation—go by train and save money. Fares reduced everywhere. Ask at R.R. station.

BOSTON AND MAINE

ROXBURY MAN HEAD WPA

Paul Edwards, acting State Works Progress administrator, will be replaced before the end of the government fiscal year on June 30, the Boston Evening American learned today.

From a source close to the Boston Evening American, it was learned that Edwards' successor will be named this week.

The Boston Evening American learned from the same source that the name of the new administrator could not be disclosed in that "it might tip over the apple."

His regular activities keep them busy and will keep them busy enough without complicating a job of those who are now working at the various offices.

The source said that there was a second signal in the court that there was definite hostility between the two high state officials.

At the same time from regional headquarters it was definitely learned that appointment of a state administrator will be made when National Administrator Harry L. Hopkins "calls around to Massachusetts."

At the regional headquarters it was indicated that Hopkins was to be replaced before the end of the government fiscal year on June 30, the Boston Evening American learned today.

From a source close to the Boston Evening American, it was learned that Edwards' successor will be named this week.

The Boston Evening American learned from the same source that the name of the new administrator could not be disclosed in that "it might tip over the apple."

His regular activities keep them busy and will keep them busy enough without complicating a job of those who are now working at the various offices.

The source said that there was a second signal in the court that there was definite hostility between the two high state officials.

At the same time from regional headquarters it was definitely learned that appointment of a state administrator will be made when National Administrator Harry L. Hopkins "calls around to Massachusetts."

At the regional headquarters it was indicated that Hopkins was to be replaced before the end of the government fiscal year on June 30, the Boston Evening American learned today.

From a source close to the Boston Evening American, it was learned that Edwards' successor will be named this week.

First National Stores
SAVINGS on WARM WEATHER Foods

Everything from mayonnaise, fresh fruits and vegetables, a wide variety of ready-to-eat foods are ready for your warm weather meals at your local First National Store.

SHRIMP FANCY WET PACK 2 3/4 oz TINS 25c	SARDINES KING OSCAR 2 TINS 23c	TOMATOES RICHMOND RED RIPS 2 TINS 19c	TOMATOES FINAST SOLID RIPS 2 TINS 23c	BAKED BEANS FINAST COVER BAKED 2 LGE TINS 25c	BAKER'S VANILLA OLD ENGLISH MARMALADE 1 LB 21c
GULFKIST - JUMBO SIZE 2 3/4 oz TINS 29c	GRAPEFRUIT FINAST - CHILL AND SERVE SERVE IN FRUIT CUP WITH OTHER FRUITS OR ALONE No 1 TIN 10c	CORN FLAKES POST TOASTIES OR KELLOGG'S 2 PKGS 13c	WELCH'S GRAPE JUICE PINT BOT 19c	HOUSEHOLD SPECIALS CAMAY TOILET SOAP 3 CAKES 14c	OXYDOL WASHING POWDER LGE PKG 19c
RESCIND ORDER ON AMBULANCE	MAJOR THOMAS R. BURLIN of Quincy today downed his order which forbids police to respond with their ambulance on accident calls, leaving all such cases to the City Hospital.	DEL MONTE OF FINAST PEACHES 2 LGE TINS 29c	FORCE CEREAL PLAIN OR FLAVORED 2 BOX 29c	WALDORF TISSUE 4 ROLLS 17c	SCOT TISSUE 3 ROLLS 23c
RESCIND ORDER ON AMBULANCE	MAJOR THOMAS R. BURLIN of Quincy today downed his order which forbids police to respond with their ambulance on accident calls, leaving all such cases to the City Hospital.	DOUGHNUTS PLAIN OR FLAVORED 2 BOX 29c	KAFFEE HAG 1 LB TIN 42c	SCOT TOWELS 2 ROLLS 19c
RESCIND ORDER ON AMBULANCE	MAJOR THOMAS R. BURLIN of Quincy today downed his order which forbids police to respond with their ambulance on accident calls, leaving all such cases to the City Hospital.	CIGARETTES WITH THE NEW FILTER VICEROY AULDLY MENTHOLATED PACKAGE 15c	COOL CORK TIPPED PACKAGE 15c	RALEIGH 2 PKGS 25c

Quality Meats at Our Markets

BEST CUTS WELL TRIMMED HEAVY STEER BEEF

RUMP STEAK 45c

BEST CUTS TENDER BEEF

CUBE STEAK 29c

SIRLOIN STEAK 39c

HAMBURGER 19c

MACKEREL 5c

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

BANANAS 21c

CANTALOUPE 25c

CARROTS 5c

BEETS 15c

LETTUCE 2 HEADS 15c

U. S. Income Tax Receipts Jump

Washington, June 23 (AP).—Secretary Morgenthau reported today that income tax collections in the first 20 days of June amounted to $28,505,823, a 23 per cent increase over the comparable period last year.

State House Briefs

The Senate today passed to be approved the bill providing for licensing and inspection of over-night camps in local health departments.

Reconsideration of the Senate in passing the bill was opposed by the bill providing for additional taxation on alcohol sold by drug stores was refused today on voice vote. Senator Edward C. Carroll of South Boston, who tried reconsideration, said the poor would have to pay the additional tax.

Men just naturally like Golden's better!

The reason—no other mustard has ever equalled

Golden's perfect blend

Where BOSTON BUSINESS GOES HOME TO LUNCH THOMPSON'S SPA

Men just naturally like Golden's better!

The reason—no other mustard has ever equalled

Golden's perfect blend

Where BOSTON BUSINESS GOES HOME TO LUNCH THOMPSON'S SPA

Men just naturally like Golden's better!

The reason—no other mustard has ever equalled

Golden's perfect blend

Where BOSTON BUSINESS GOES HOME TO LUNCH THOMPSON'S SPA

Men just naturally like Golden's better!

The reason—no other mustard has ever equalled

Betty Alden on 'Beacon Hill'

Frances Gardiner Is Bride Today
Of Marc Peter, Jr.

By BETTY ALDEN

THERE IS NO POLITICAL convention going on in Gardiner, Maine, but lots of government officials, members of the diplomatic and consular service and newspaper men are there just the same . . . for a marriage of international importance was held there this afternoon . . .

At 12:30 Frances Gardiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halliwell Gardiner of Brookline, was married to Marc Peter, Jr., son of the Minister from Switzerland and Madame Marc Peter, of Geneva, Switzerland . . . The ceremony was performed in Calvin Church, Gardiner, with the Rev. Thomas Akeley officiating, and Mr. Gardiner gave his daughter away.

The tall, dignified bride wore a simple gown of white tulle with beirloom lace and tulle fashioning her veil and she carried a feathery bouquet of white larkspur . . .

Anne Warren, daughter of Mrs. Samuel D. Warren, who recently became engaged to Philip Saltanall Wold of New York and Wareham, was the maid of honor, and Jeanne Peter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Georges Peter of Brookline, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the flower girl . . . They both wore gowns of pink tulle with wreaths of blue flowers in their hair and Miss Warren carried a bouquet of blue delphinium.

The wedding reception was held at Oaklands, the Gardiners' summer home, which, like the church, had been decorated with white peonies for the occasion . . .

Mrs. Gardiner, the bride's mother, wore a blue dress printed with a Du-bonnet red figure and a large dark blue hat, while Madame Peter, who was also in the receiving line, was gowned in cafe au lait lace with a navy blue hat and accessories.

Paul Ceresole of Lausanne, Switzerland, was the best man, and the ushers were the Messrs. Nathaniel Saltanall of Chestnut street, Nelson W. Aldrich of Otis place, Jean-Georges Peter, brother of the bridegroom, Victor Martin of San Francisco, and Robert H. Gardiner, Jr., and John Hayes Gardiner, brothers of the bride . . .

The bride, who formerly belonged to the Junior League and Vincent Club, has resigned membership in both to devote more time to her hobby, landscape architecture . . . The bridegroom received his education at the University of Virginia and Harvard Business School and Harvard Architectural School . . . They are going to spend the summer in Milton . . .

Hasty Pudding to Attend Debut

THE DOORS of the Hasty Pudding Club are temporarily closed . . . Most of the members are at their summer homes or away on vacations, but they will gather for an impromptu reunion on June 27 . . . On that evening, Marshall Field, of New York, is giving a party at his country place on Lloyd's Neck, Long Island, in honor of his debutante daughter, Barbara, and Marshall Field, Jr., who was the winsome heroine in "The Lid's Off," this year's Hasty Pudding show, has invited a number of his fellow "hasties" to swell the star . . .

Many of the New York debas either missed the show on their one-night stand at Mecca Temple, or else were unable to attend because they hadn't "come out," so before the evening is over they will undoubtedly insist that the boys stage an informal musical revue . . .

If they can remember the steps, the husky chorines will once again swing into their dance while the orchestra plays the hit songs of the show . . . Gaspar Bacon, Jr. will be on hand to interpret his new fantasia "Mrs. Hoofer," who dances the Zulu Lull in her off moments . . . Ben Welles will probably do his Apache dance . . . and even Sammy Eisen and the Ruby Newman orchestra, which played for the show, will journey down to Lloyd's Neck to play the Pudding's favorite songs during the evening . . . Francis A. Goodhue, the famous Honey-boy Maverick of the prize ring in "The Lid's Off," will also be there . . .

Other Pudding attenders at the party will be John A. Roosevelt, Camman Newberry, George F. Baker, Jr., George Whitney, Jr., Sewall Gardiner and Charles MacVeigh . . .

Mrs. E. Marshall Field will have a large house party, and many of her daughter's friends among the Boston debas have been invited to go down for the occasion . . .

News of the Yachting Set

WEVE COVERED the waterfront to learn that . . . Isabel de C. Porter is taking a leave of absence from her landlubber job of landscape architecture and gardening to join her brother, Burnham Porter, on a four-week cruise with the Dick Lyons of Dover . . . Betty Butler Grinnell is just a sailor's sweetheart for a couple of weeks, while her brother, Lawrence Grinnell, Jr., tosses over the ocean waves in Bermuda in the annual sailing race from Newport to Hamilton, which got under way yesterday . . . To pass the time away Betty is staying with her family, the Morgan Butlers, at their summer home in South Dartmouth . . . Marian McKean watched the races on the Thames Friday from the decks of the Dudley Wolfe yacht . . . Too bad she missed the opening races off the Manchester Yacht Club Saturday, for she is one of the North Shore's most expert sailorettes . . .

Arkie de Rosset and her bridegroom, Carrington Mason Lloyd, whose business is selling cruisers, gave a small supper dance at Ten Acres in Weymouth the other evening following Ellen Eastman's wedding . . . Gathered around their table were Janet Sawyer and Bob Mielke, who are now Mr. and Mrs. the Henry Mitchell, Louise Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Allen De Wit, Burnham Kelly, Harriet Arnold and Clarkson Collins . . . Some of the ladies, who play contract bridge and duplicate on Monday afternoons at the Cohasset Yacht Club, had a sea-going luncheon aboard Mrs. Fred Brown's yacht yesterday before the first of this season's series of parties began . . . Some of the fans who played were Mrs. James Dean, Mrs. Theodore Little, Mrs. Stephen Sleeper and Mrs. William H. Brown.

PIERCE FAMILY Well Represented at Magnolia Opening

WALLACE PIERCE MRS. WALLACE PIERCE

EDWARD PORTER

JANET PIERCE

DAVID WALDON

DOROTHY PIERCE

CHARLES CURRAN

AT FIRST GLANCE this looks like a Pierce family reunion, but actually Mr. Porter, Janet Pierce, a sub-deb, David Waldon, Dorothy Pierce, who came out last winter, and Charles Curran, Wallace Pierce and his bride (the former Mary Barkan of New York) are standing behind them to complete the family group.

Lucille O'Malley Entertains

Cohasset Home Scene of Fete

Scene of action changes.

Shore homes and seaside rendezvous are supplanting clubhouses as the choice spots for making plans for the next club season.

Gray Lodge, the Cohasset home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. O'Malley of Chestnut Hill, will be the setting for the executive board meeting of the Junior Philomatheia Saturday afternoon.

Lucille, who served as the group's charter president, will be the day's hostess. Next season's plans will be drawn up and tentative dates will be made for the interesting schedule of activities.

Among Saturday's guests will be Virginia Grimes of Chestnut Hill, president of the interclub group; Harriet Lyons of Newton, who joins the ranks in early July; Catherine Dooly, Mrs. Charles McCutty, Florence Garrity, Eleanor Braddon, Colgate Colby and Esther Harrist.

Other members of the executive board who will attend the tea and business meeting are Ruth Murphy, Emily Collins, Kathleen Moore, Mary Coogan, Faimy Albre, Dorothy Crannell, Miriam Donald, Mary Lily Poley and two of the club's senior advisors, Mrs. William H. Finby of Belmont and Mrs. M. J. McCarthy of Wintthrop.

Gray Lodge will be the scene of much activity this season. Early in August a garden benefit will swell the scholarship fund of the Senior Philomatheia Club. Mrs. Charles O'Malley, who has long been identified with the club, will direct the day's program.

Great Genevieve O'Malley, who has been studying at Manhattanville College, is spending a few days in St. Louis, Missouri, where she is attending the wedding of two of her cousins. She is accompanied by her brother, Charles Deolage O'Malley.

Grace continues on to Kansas City to visit her aunt, Mrs. Genevieve P. Moore, who will return with her family to spend the summer months as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. O'Malley.

A swim at Salsate and dinner at

LUCILLE O'MALLEY

(Picture from International News Photo Service.)

Nugget's Saturday was the way the Aristos Club officers and executive board held good-bye to the season. The farewell dinner also proved to be a shower for Mary O'Sell of Medford whose engagement to Edward Tinsman of Lowell was formally announced by Mary's mother, Mrs. Joseph O'Neill at a family dinner party.

Carol Murnane, who has served as the club's president, was also present with a gift . . . an appropriate token of appreciation for her unselfish executive work.

Others attending the dinner were

Aristos Club At Dinner

Ada McLeary, Katherine Erwin, Marion McDermott, Charlotte O'Donnell, Marion McDermott, Marjorie Lynch, Catherine Hogan, Elbel Padden and Grace Donohue.

All roads lead to the Marshall House in Port Harbor, Me. for members of the Aristos Club which is holding a week-end picnic Sunday and Monday.

The organization is composed of women employees of the First National Bank of Boston who combine their charity and social work with a round of social festivities.

The plans for the week-end picnic are exciting and interesting. Agnes C. Brodie, chairman of the recreation committee, has arranged the week-end and there'll be something doing from early Saturday afternoon until late Sunday when buses will leave for Boston.

Swimming meets will be staged, golf, bridge and tennis tournaments will be held, and bicycling and riding have not been given space on this intriguing program.

Judging the competitive sports has been detailed to Agnes Baker, Ann Crafts and Norma Fizzle.

Interesting plans for a week-end and several boys at the Shilby Industrial School for Boys who have been ill from pneumonia poisoning are fully recovered, it was learned today.

Physicians believe the poisoning was caused by food, principally chicken, prepared in the institution's kitchen.

Bridal Party Future Bride Feted

Several entertainments have been arranged to precede the Pittsfield wedding of Miss Allen Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kelly of Glen Crane Farm, Richmond, to Edwin H. Baker Pratt, son of Mrs. John T. Pratt of New York.

The ceremony will take place next Saturday, June 27. A large reception is to be held at Glen Crane.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Loring B. Robbins of Pittsfield is giving a dinner dance at the Pittsfield Country Club in honor of Miss Kelly and Mr. Pratt. On Friday Mrs. Philip Weston will entertain the entire bridal party at a picnic at the Mahanomet Club, and that evening they will be the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly.

MISS COOLEY GRAVES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marie D. Graves of Pittsfield, has chosen August 8, as the date for her wedding to Arthur Eaton Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wintthrop M. Crane Jr., of Dalton, Mass. The ceremony will be held at Greatfield, the home of the Graves family on Holmes road in Pittsfield.

School Ptomaine Epidemic Ends
Sixty-two, June 22. The 58 officers and several boys at the Shilby Industrial School for Boys who have been ill from pneumonia poisoning are fully recovered, it was learned today.

Physicians believe the poisoning was caused by food, principally chicken, prepared in the institution's kitchen.

Eleanor Stephenson Brookline Bride

Sister Is Maid of Honor

THE ENDLESS procession of June brides continues. This afternoon, Miss Eleanor Brewster Stephenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. C. Stephenson of Brookline, became the bride of Herli Miles David of Brookline, son of Mr. Lucien H. David and the late Dr. Ina Miles Wetmore.

The Right Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster and the Rev. Henry McF. B. Ogilby jointly officiated at the ceremony, which was held in the Church of Our Savior in Leonard.

The bride wore a gown of ivory white satin and a long veil of white lace. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilacs of the valley.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Stephenson, who was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. J. Collins Landstreet (Helen David), sister of the bridegroom, who was matron of honor, were dressed alike in yellow lace and large yellow straw hats. They carried bouquets of delphinium and daisies.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth F. Swift of Concord, Miss Rosamond T. Pratt of Brookline, Miss Annealing of Needham Heights, Miss Jane Bogardus of Swampscott, wore dresses of larkspur blue lace with large straw hats of the same color. They carried arm bouquets of larkspur, yellow daisies and yellow roses. Little Miss Harriet Moore Sturges of Brookline was the flower girl.

Lieutenant J. Collins Landstreet, U. S. N. of Nashville, Tenn., and California, was the best man for her brother-in-law, Rams A. E. Braggiotti of Brookline, who was the head usher and assisting him were George M. Bartol of Brookline, Gordon Worcester of Belmont, Will A. Burrage Jr. of Middlebury, Vt., Lorin C. Tarleton of St. Louis, Mo., and Edmund V. Keville of Belmont.

Home Reception
Following the wedding a reception was held at the Edge Hill road home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Stephenson, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black and white chiffon and a black straw hat.

The bride, graduated from the Beaver Country Day school in 1931 and from Mrs. Wheeler's school this June. She made her debut in the 1931-32 season and is a member of both the Junior League and Vincent Club.

Mr. David prepared for college at the Browne and Nichols school and was graduated from Harvard with a class of 1933. His clubs are the Fox, Hasty-Pudding, Institute of 170, the Speakers and the Harvard Club of New York.

Following their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. David will reside in New York city.

Woman Sets Air Record
Villacoubay, France, June 23 (AP)—Maryse Hilla, French aviator, claimed the women's national record today after a flight which she said reached 45,275 feet.

"I ENJOY THAT FEELING OF WELL-BEING..."

GEORGE REIS, Gold-Cup winner. "I smoke Camels," he says, "enjoy that feeling of well-being that good digestion brings." Camels stimulate digestion.

SPOT CASH paid for OLD GOLD

Silver and Gold Plated Jewelry in Any Condition

PEASE & CURREN
8 BROWNFIELD ST., BOSTON
U. S. Government Licensed

CAMELS Costlier Tobaccos!

"SO MANY OF THE GIRLS are taking up Camels," says Miss Travis Lander, cashier. "Camels help my digestion—cheer me up. They set me right!"

Deb-Mode FOOTWEAR SALE

635

REGULARLY 9.50 to 12.50

Spring and Summer Models for Street, Sports, Afternoon and Evening

C. CRAWFORD HOLLIDGE

BOSTON LYNN HYANNIS

BOSTON AMONG CITIES WITH LONDON BIDS

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, June 23.—With the notification ceremony set for July 23 at London, bids for competing speeches by Governor Alfred E. Smith, U. S. P. presidential nominee, are pouring in by scores. It was announced today.

New York, Pittsburgh, Springfield, Ill., McCook, Neb., and West Middlesex, Pa., birthplaces of the nominees, all seek the governor's opening speech of the campaign, the most seriously considered by the nominee and his advisers.

Asking for early places on his itinerary are Philadelphia, Boston, Buffalo, Rome, Va., Columbia, S. C., Indianapolis, St. Joseph, Mo., Dallas and several Pacific Coast cities.

TEXAS FAIR INVITES HIM
Officials of the Texas Centennial Exposition are urging the governor to appear in Dallas at the earliest moment following his arrival.

The Union League Club of Philadelphia, which this week flouted before the Democratic national convention an electoral sign bearing the name of London and Knox, seeks to sponsor a huge G. O. P. rally in the Quaker City with the governor the speaker.

Young Republican organizations in Honolulu and St. Joseph and a group of original London supporters in Boston have all bid for appearances by the nominee.

The lecture schedule of Greeley State Teachers' College, Greeley, Colo., and Lake Champlain, N. Y., have extended invitations. Lake Champlain may be located on the first London swing into the East, according to the governor's supporters.

PLAN NOTIFICATION
As the nominee today began to clear his desk prior to departing tomorrow night for a 10-day vacation in Paris, D. C., Tokyo started feverish preparations for the notification ceremony. A committee of 10 business leaders was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to handle the national committee with arrangements.

MOTOR DEATHS REACH 94
Death took the wheel for the 94th time since January 1 in Greater Boston today, when Ernest Green, 33, was killed in a collision with a taxicab on Washington street.

The victim was standing on the rear of the truck driven by William W. White, 26, of Allston street, Cambridge, that was bound from the Mt. Auburn Hospital to the Cambridge pumping station, where the men were at work.

As Walsh turned the truck from Brattle street into Elmwood avenue, Green apparently lost his balance and plunged over the tailboard, striking his head on the pavement.

This is the second accident of this type to occur in Cambridge within a week.

Last Saturday, Chester R. Hult, 11, of 128 Mt. Vernon street, was instantly killed when he fell from a fast-moving truck in front of the Cambridge armory, near Harvard bridge.

Conant Inspects Harvard Exhibits
President James Bryant Conant of Harvard took a three-hour "rumor-buster" tour in the treacherous exhibitions at Harvard University today, unaccompanied by 20 other leaders.

According to the guide the Harvard head was just "another fellow in a panama hat." This was the first time President Conant had seen the exhibits.

State's Potential "First Lady" Smiles

Smiling at you, above, in the cultured and charming young woman who may be the next "first lady" of the Commonwealth. She is Miss Elizabeth L. Haig, elder daughter of Greenfield's John W. Haigis. You see the latter, below, reeling at home after winning the Republican nomination for the governorship.

CURLY PUSHES NEW TAX BILL
Despite the action of the legislature in rejecting proposals of Governor Curley for additional taxes, the governor will persist in his attempt to crowd the legislation through, he said today.

The governor said he would continue with the Democratic and Republican members to seek agreement on measures which in his opinion "must be passed."

"If we agree," said the governor, "we can promulgate the legislation tomorrow afternoon but if we can't it will not be promulgated for quite a little while."

He said he believed the bill to prevent judges from practicing as attorneys in their own courts, which was defeated, should be passed.

The big thing, however, that "must" be passed he said, "is relief from taxation for the smaller home owner."

Boston Imports Take Big Jump
Local manufacturers expressed optimism today when they learned that importations of foreign merchandise at the port of Boston for one week reached a valuation of $2,314,580, a gain of nearly $700,000 over the same week of last year.

Also $183,054 worth arrived for warehouse entry and $465,287 worth was withdrawn from warehouses.

HAMILTON BIDS POLICE SEEK 2 WELCOME TO IN INSURANCE DEATH PROBE

New York, June 23 (UPI)—Characterizing former Governor Alfred E. Smith as "one of the finest Americans I know," John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, today declared he "would be glad to have him give his views to the people."

"The people are entitled to hear Mr. Smith," he asserted.

Hamilton stated, however, he has had no direct communication with the former Governor on the possibility of campaign addresses for Governor Alfred M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee.

Hamilton expressed doubt that Smith could accept Postmaster General Farley's invitation to address the Democratic National Convention, following the re-Governor's attack on President Roosevelt and the New Deal.

JOB-HOLDERS CONVENTION
"I don't know what he's going to do to the convention for," Hamilton said, "particularly when 84 per cent of the delegates are job-holders appointed by Farley. What would Smith want to go to a setup for?"

He said that Farley "had ordered" job-holders to get out 1500 Americans to hear President Roosevelt's address, "a smacking of something sacred Americanism."

Citing the third party candidate of Representative William Lemke the speaker of the Congress, Hamilton predicted the North Dakota Congressman would take six to nine votes from Roosevelt for every one he took from Governor Landon.

He said he believed Lemke would effect the Roosevelt vote, particularly in the Mississippi valley.

After luncheon today with the Republican state executive committee, Hamilton left for Washington. He will spend a week there arranging campaign plans and then continue to Chicago where general national headquarters will be located.

Thereafter the national chairman plans a nationwide airplane tour. Definite plans for Landon's campaign have not been completed, he declared.

Boy, 10, Rescued From Drowning
Manchester, June 23.—Thomas A. Raco, 10, of 34 Beach Street, was rescued from drowning today after he fell into the water while playing at Park Pier.

The boy was in a dory, tied at the pier, and was sailing his toy boat when he lost his balance. Herman C. Sweet, also of Beach street, hearing the boy's cries, leaped in and caught the boy as he was going down for the second time.

25 Quincy Voters Switch to Unionists
Twenty-five Quincy voters have changed their party affiliations to the Union Party since the election of Father Coughlin last Friday night. It was revealed today by City Clerk Henry L. Crane. The change was made by the decline in order that they may be able to vote for the United Union for Social Justice candidates in the coming primaries.

...It's here now TWO YEAR OLD STRAIGHT RYE at its old low price!

If you are one of thousands wanting old whiskey at the price of young, here's what Old Farm straight rye is now increased to two years in age — at no increase in price!

COLD STREAM...PINK

SALMON

JACUIN PACKED ALASKA PINK SALMON. THERE IS A TEMPTING RECIPE FOR SALMON, CROQUETTES, OR THE LABEL TRY IT.

10¢ TALL 16 OZ CAN

Summer Salmon Dishes
Most people prefer salmon in large chunks just as it comes from the can. So we set about to show you how to use salmon the way people like it—in as large pieces as possible. Learn all about it in this week's A&P MENU SHEETS—copies are free at your nearby A&P Food Store.

MILK	WHITE HOUSE EVAPORATED	4 1/2 OZ CANS	25¢
SULTANA	PEANUT BUTTER	2 LB JAR	25¢
CORN FLAKES	KELLOGG'S or POST TOSTIES	2 PKGS (8 OZ)	13¢
APPLE JELLY	APPLE HARVEST	2 1/2 LB	15¢
OLIVES	ENCORE—PLAIN	6 1/2 OZ BOTTLE	15¢
LIFEBUOY	TOILET TISSUE	3 BARS	17¢
WALDORF	TOILET TISSUE	4 ROLLS	17¢
FARINA	PILLSBURY'S	PKG	9¢
BABO BEANS	CAMPBELL'S	2 CANS (16 OZ)	23¢
FORCE PEARS	WHOLE WHEAT DEL MONTE	2 CANS (20 OZ)	10¢
PEROXIDE	DEL MONTE	2 CANS (8 OZ)	25¢

8 O'CLOCK	1 1/2 LB	17¢
DIAMOND CRYSTAL SHAKER SALT	2 PKGS	11¢
PRUNES	1 LB	11¢
REAR-SIDE DRESSING	1 1/2 OZ JAR	29¢
MUSTARD	1 OZ JAR	10¢
ROOSTER BEEF	1 1/2 LB	23¢
HIRE'S EXTRACT	1 1/2 OZ	23¢
ROOSTER BEEF	1 1/2 LB	23¢
BAKER'S EXTRACT	1 1/2 OZ	14¢
BERCHENT COFFEE	1 1/2 OZ	29¢
PLAIN OR CORN TIPPED CIGARETTES	100 PKTS	15¢
CLEANS WITHOUT SCOURING	1 1/2 OZ	15¢
SANI-FLUSH	2 CANS	15¢

pickles	1 1/2 OZ	15¢
SHRIMP OR TROUT MIXED PICKLES	1 1/2 OZ	19¢
SULTANA SPAGHETTI OR MACARONI	1 LB PKG	7¢
FRUIT CATALAN SPARKLE	1 1/2 OZ	5¢
TEA	1/2 LB	15¢
SPICED CHOCOLATE	1 LB	17¢
SUSANS	1 1/2 OZ	17¢
SALTINA	1 1/2 OZ	21¢
ANY FAIR-PLAID OR RICE	1 1/2 OZ	45¢
BEANS	1 1/2 OZ	45¢
MAFYFAIR TEA	1 1/2 OZ	45¢
SOAPINE	2 LARGE PKGS	35¢

fresh fruits & vegetables

BEETS	FRESH NATIVE	3 BCHS	10¢
GREEN BEANS	CRISP	1 LB	5¢
CANTALOUPE	LARGE JUMBO	2 FOR	25¢
BANANAS	RIFE-YELLOW	4 LBS	21¢
CARROTS	LG BCH	5¢	SPINACH 3 LB 10¢

Meats

GUARANTEED HEAVY STEER BEEF

SHOULDERS

"WILDMERE" 8-10 LB AVERAGE

Smoked

RUMP STEAK	1 LB	45¢
PORTERHOUSE	1 LB	39¢
CUBE STEAK	1 LB	29¢
FANCY BRISKET	1 LB	27¢
JELLIED CORNED BEEF	1 LB	19¢
FRANKFURTS	1 LB	21¢
SALT PORK	1 LB	15¢

fish specials!

MACKEREL FRESH CAUGHT 1 LB 5¢

ALL PRICES EFFECTIVE IN BOSTON AND VICINITY

A&P Food Stores

Lynn Boy With Cowboy Rig Missing

With a cowboy outfit in his suitcase and a carefully hoarded $50 in his pocket, 15-year-old John H. Winnie of Lynn was last seen in an attempt to crowd the legislation through, he said today.

The governor said he would continue with the Democratic and Republican members to seek agreement on measures which in his opinion "must be passed."

"If we agree," said the governor, "we can promulgate the legislation tomorrow afternoon but if we can't it will not be promulgated for quite a little while."

He said he believed the bill to prevent judges from practicing as attorneys in their own courts, which was defeated, should be passed.

The big thing, however, that "must" be passed he said, "is relief from taxation for the smaller home owner."

JOIN THE "AMERICAN" PARTY

From Maine to Florida—Stop at the Sign of Greater Value!

AMERICAN OIL COMPANY

Also maker of Amoco Motor Lubricants

NOT A DISCONTINUED MODEL

THORP & MARTIN COMPANY

66 FRANKLIN ST.

New England's Oldest Typewriter House

...It's here now TWO YEAR OLD STRAIGHT RYE at its old low price!

If you are one of thousands wanting old whiskey at the price of young, here's what Old Farm straight rye is now increased to two years in age — at no increase in price!

Mellower, better tasting, heavy bodied to go farther, however you mix it.

Plenty of it. All package stores and bars. Best buy on the market.

$1.15 PER PINT

OLD FARM BRAND

PENNSYLVANIA STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEY

YOUR GUIDE TO GOOD LIQUORS

National Distillers Corporation of New England, Boston, Mass.

By Hazel Livingston

the last the Senora would give in the Mill Valley house, came and still he had not spoken.
Continued Tomorrow

Accessories tell their own story—the canvas bag piped in red, lined with rubber, is intended for the beach. But Fashion Congress jurors all agreed they could pop enough paraphernalia into it for a comfortable week-end. Red and white sandals are a trace exotic, certainly most effective.

For shopping information, phone Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, LIBerty 4000, or write her at the Boston Evening America.

street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

American Pattern 1
232 West 18th street
N. Y.

The new, p
ALL-vegetable s

The new, p
ALL-vegetable s

The new, purer
ALL-vegetable shortening

ALL-Vegetable Shortening

ADVICE on LOVE and MARRIAGE by BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Attractive Widow Always A Good Bet in the Marriage Race

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"There's something about a widow . . ."

They were discussing her this morning, these computer friends of mine, and on that point everyone was in agreement. There is something about a widow.

Stylishly gowned in black and white, the slightest suggestion of a veil over her blonde bob, she stood there on the platform, a little apart from the rest of us. Every eye was on her, men's especially.

There was no getting away from it; she did attract, subtly and effortlessly.

"She'll be married again in six months," my neighbor observed. "I've seen her time before. Ready to hurt themselves into the grave today, they're rehearsing for the altar trip tomorrow. Only a fool will try to compete with a widow."

This observation, probably true in more ways than one, caused me to think. What is there about a widow that appeals to men? Why is she more irresistible than other women, I asked myself, remembering the great number of widowed friends who had remarried just as quickly as safe regard for conventional morality allowed?

After the train stopped, and after neighborhood gossip had been bled, I found an answer to my own question. Men, willing, ready to bet their shirts on a widow's success in matrimony.

And who could be safer, surer, more chances than the woman who had proven her love for a man, served him, stood by him, walked behind his coffin to the grave?

FOUND THE SECRET

Thus I know, I found the secret of man's preference for the young widow. Men, actually the sentimental sex, without exception feel and treasure great sorrow for a brother in distress.

Watch John telling Tipzy Tom from his home on the corner across and you have abundant proof of an ever-to-be-remembered lesson in sympathy and understanding. And when the brother happens to die, then it is only natural that the sorrow assume great proportions.

Immersed in this sorrow or heartily all, bravely on her feet, the widow becomes a creature glorified in man's eyes. One woman in a thousand is able to give a man as much as a girl can give him. I don't mean to say that she is a better woman than the one who died.

Thus, best friend, the widow, providing the presence of too many children does not shatter men's dreams, soon finds herself a great deal more than a success to her part in the matrimonial race. And with very little effort on her part, she soon finds a successor to her "late lamented" and, more often than not, a better man than the one who died.

Now, my friends, the widow, centuries ago, recognized this anatomy of widows, you and I, and reason compelled them to their lives on the husband's funeral pyre. Frankly, I should hesitate to vouch for the legend, but, believe me, I'd never hesitate when the priest

CROCHETED HAT AND PURSE PATTERN 1233

MANY a "bowler" you'll see this season, but none as smart, or cool, as the crocheted version. So Laura Wheeler says "Crochet your own!" It's easy to do, using pattern 1233, which also includes simple directions for the smart, fan-shaped bag.

Using gum, crochet both in a simple open stitch, their lines in rib stitch. Pattern 1233 contains directions for making the set. Illustration of it and of all stitches needed; material requirements. Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to Boston Evening American Needlework Department, 22 Essex Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plain pattern number, your name and address.

Married Comrades

By Adele Garrison

KATHERINE TELLS OF TROUBLES WITH MEN

CHAPTER 25

IN THE trite old phraseology, I "fairly flew my breath," as, after a pause, during which years of memories flashed kaleidoscopically before my eyes, I countered Katherine's question with a comment that I believed she also was cherishing a secret hope that Hal Meredith's devotion could make her forget her husband's neglect, and—what we both feared—his interest in another woman.

Would she turn on me in anger, or would she simply grieve at the stricture, which I regretted as soon as it had left my lips?

I might have known that she would betray neither emotion—she was too good for that—but, even knowing her so well, I was not sure of the tone in which she answered me.

"I can't blame you for that, Katherine," she said, "because it is founded on fact. I am going to be very frank with you; for, both as Jack's nearest relative, and the best friend I ever knew, or ever shall hope to be, you are entitled to the truth from me."

DECIDES TO TELL

I threw up my hand in protestation. "Please!" I said, "Don't tell me anything against your best judgment."

"That is my best judgment," she replied quietly. "I want you to know what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

There was a finality in her voice that barred further protest. "You know that old story, 'Hearts and minds'?" she asked. "You know how it goes. It is a story that you know. You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

"You know what I mean when I say that I am going to tell you what I have decided, and all my reasons for the decision."

Golden Loveliness of Tanned Skin

FOUNDED BY ANITA LOUGHER

These "L" Street Brownies, who are automobile salesmen, suddenly found that their lotion was so effective and so much in demand by everyone who tried it, that they now have a thriving exportation which does nothing but prepare and market this remarkable discovery.

There are none of the usual oils or acids you would expect to find in a sunburn preventive, so it's not greasy. It's a grand powder base, although the "Brownies" had no such idea in their heads when they were perfecting the formula. It actually makes people there, they claim, who never tanned before, it does something to the pigmentation of the skin which is not harmful or permanent, but gives you the smooth, golden tan you have always hoped for.

It has no oil in water-proof. That is, although it may be washed off with soap and water, it will not rinse off. So you can dash in and out of the sun many times, and you like without renewing the lotion.

With its unpretentious beginnings at "L" Street, this tanning lotion has won a prominent place in swanky beach clubs from Atlantic City to Bermuda. It is in great demand on cruise ships to Bermuda and South America. The repeat or reorder business in department stores amazed store executives.

Martha Lee

New Recipes For Pies

By MARTHA LEE

PIES ARE just as popular in the summer time as in the winter. We only want to change the method of making and the ingredients.

Bake a number of pie shells at a time, varying the filling to suit the occasion. If these are kept in an airtight container they will remain fresh for days. Should you wish a double assurance of their freshness, reheat and cook before filling.

Chiffon pies are made with a gelatin base. When recipe calls for fruit juice, heat is sufficient to melt gelatin as heat dissolves the vitamin content. Lemon juice added to fresh fruit will bring out the flavor.

Egg white may be folded into the pie filling. This makes a fluffy mixture that does not deteriorate with standing, as when the pie is topped with a meringue.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

1 tbsp. gelatin
1 cup cold milk
1/4 cup sugar
2 squares chocolate
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 baked pie shell

Soften gelatin in one fourth cup cold milk. Combine one and one-half cups milk, sugar and chocolate, and cook over low heat until very smooth. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks and cook one minute longer. Remove from fire, pour over gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Cook. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into cooled baked pie shell. Top with whipped cream. Chill in refrigerator.

BAKED PIE SHELL

1/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water (approximately)

Sift flour and salt together; add one-half of shortening to flour. Cut in with pastry blender or two knives until mixture looks like meal. Add remaining shortening and mix thoroughly. Roll out in thin sheets. Roll out in thin sheets. Roll out in thin sheets.

LEMON FLUFFY PIE

3 eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1 lemon
3 cups sugar
Grated rind of lemon
3 tablespoons hot water

Beat eggs and sugar together. Add one-half cup of lemon juice and one-half cup of hot water. Add hot water and cook all over hot water to a thin custard. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into custard. Pour into a baked pastry shell and brown in a moderately hot oven or 375 deg. F.

PEACH DELIGHT TARTS

1 can sliced peaches
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. lemon juice

Acquire a Glamorous Even Tan With Amazing New Sunburn Lotion

By ARLINE GOULD

IT ALL BEGAN at "L" Street when two of the Brownies decided that there must be something which would give them a wonderful tan without burning to a crisp the sensitive skin on their tummies and backs.

They experimented for years, tried everything they could find, consulted one of the country's leading pharmaceutical chemists and finally achieved a formula for the most wonderful "tan-giver" you can imagine.

These "L" Street Brownies, who are automobile salesmen, suddenly found that their lotion was so effective and so much in demand by everyone who tried it, that they now have a thriving exportation which does nothing but prepare and market this remarkable discovery.

There are none of the usual oils or acids you would expect to find in a sunburn preventive, so it's not greasy. It's a grand powder base, although the "Brownies" had no such idea in their heads when they were perfecting the formula. It actually makes people there, they claim, who never tanned before, it does something to the pigmentation of the skin which is not harmful or permanent, but gives you the smooth, golden tan you have always hoped for.

It has no oil in water-proof. That is, although it may be washed off with soap and water, it will not rinse off. So you can dash in and out of the sun many times, and you like without renewing the lotion.

With its unpretentious beginnings at "L" Street, this tanning lotion has won a prominent place in swanky beach clubs from Atlantic City to Bermuda. It is in great demand on cruise ships to Bermuda and South America. The repeat or reorder business in department stores amazed store executives.

Menu for Tomorrow

BREAKFAST

Orange Juice
Scrambled Eggs and Bacon
Toast
Coffee

LUNCH

Carrot Chowder
Mashed Potatoes
Steak (hot or cold)
Butter
Crispers

DINNER

Fish Flakes Baked
Potato Chips
Crispers
Sliced Cucumbers
Hot Biscuits and Butter
Baked Caramel Custard
Coffee (hot or iced)

BARE IN YOUNG

Apoplexy is rarely seen in young persons. As a rule, it is associated with such changes as high blood pressure from hard work of the arteries, or heart and kidney diseases, as well as other constitutional disturbances. It is frequently associated in these persons with a fall to the ground, and a loss of consciousness.

In apoplexy a blood vessel of the brain ruptures, permitting the escape of blood into the surrounding tissues. The blood causes pressure, perhaps on important parts of the brain, and usually results in unconsciousness.

These are common causes for avoiding the doctor, yet when sudden illness occurs the doctor is hastily summoned.

Almost every day I receive an inquiry about "apoplexy" or "stroke." This is not a disease of old age; it is an accident which occurs as a result of some chronic disorder. In most instances, the underlying trouble has been present for several years. If adequate measures had been taken to deal with the original ailment, the stroke would have been avoided.

A stroke follows neglect of some constitutional disorder. Bear in mind that most chronic disorders leading to apoplexy are amenable, usually, to treatment. The doctor should examine the victim, or at least leave him in a position of rest in his body. But repeated visits to the doctor enable him to detect danger signals and to check them before they become serious.

There are common causes for avoiding the doctor, yet when sudden illness occurs the doctor is hastily summoned.

Almost every day I receive an inquiry about "apoplexy" or "stroke." This is not a disease of old age; it is an accident which occurs as a result of some chronic disorder. In most instances, the underlying trouble has been present for several years. If adequate measures had been taken to deal with the original ailment, the stroke would have been avoided.

A stroke follows neglect of some constitutional disorder. Bear in mind that most chronic disorders leading to apoplexy are amenable, usually, to treatment. The doctor should examine the victim, or at least leave him in a position of rest in his body. But repeated visits to the doctor enable him to detect danger signals and to check them before they become serious.

There are common causes for avoiding the doctor, yet when sudden illness occurs the doctor is hastily summoned.

An Electric Water Heater WORKS FOR YOU AT A MONEY SAVING RATE

Chiffon pies are made with a gelatin base. When recipe calls for fruit juice, heat is sufficient to melt gelatin as heat dissolves the vitamin content. Lemon juice added to fresh fruit will bring out the flavor.

Egg white may be folded into the pie filling. This makes a fluffy mixture that does not deteriorate with standing, as when the pie is topped with a meringue.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

1 tbsp. gelatin
1 cup cold milk
1/4 cup sugar
2 squares chocolate
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 baked pie shell

Soften gelatin in one fourth cup cold milk. Combine one and one-half cups milk, sugar and chocolate, and cook over low heat until very smooth. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks and cook one minute longer. Remove from fire, pour over gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Cook. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into cooled baked pie shell. Top with whipped cream. Chill in refrigerator.

BAKED PIE SHELL

1/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water (approximately)

Sift flour and salt together; add one-half of shortening to flour. Cut in with pastry blender or two knives until mixture looks like meal. Add remaining shortening and mix thoroughly. Roll out in thin sheets. Roll out in thin sheets. Roll out in thin sheets.

LEMON FLUFFY PIE

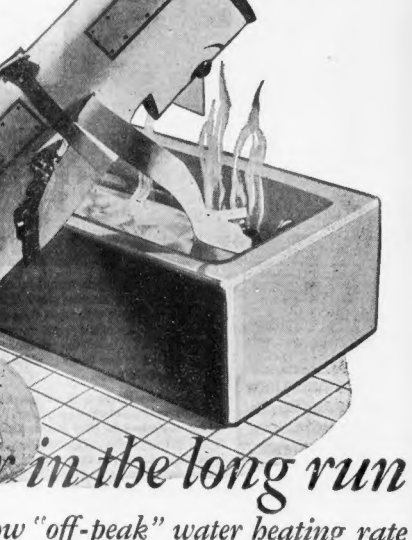

3 eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1 lemon
3 cups sugar
Grated rind of lemon
3 tablespoons hot water

Beat eggs and sugar together. Add one-half cup of lemon juice and one-half cup of hot water. Add hot water and cook all over hot water to a thin custard. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into custard. Pour into a baked pastry shell and brown in a moderately hot oven or 375 deg. F.

PEACH DELIGHT TARTS

1 can sliced peaches
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. lemon juice

There are common causes for avoiding the doctor, yet when sudden illness occurs the doctor is hastily summoned.

cheaper in the long run
—because of our low "off-peak" water heating rate

You get a low rate for the electricity used for water heating—which actually lowers the average cost of all the electricity you use in your home. And this is only one of the three ways that electric water heating saves. Because of its 3-WAY ECONOMY, you'll find it cheaper in the long run.

Electric Water Heating Gives You 3-WAY ECONOMY

1. Lifetime Economy—There is nothing in the equipment to burn out or wear out. It lasts indefinitely.

2. No Waste Heat—The electrical method of water heating is the most efficient ever devised. Eliminates waste. You get all the heat you pay for.

3. Special Low Rate—The rate for electric water heating is a low "off-peak" rate provided for this service alone.

Electric water heating is clean, silent and safe—100% automatic, always dependable.

Special Offer

GOLDEN JUBILEE

$15 FOR YOUR OLD HEATER

No Down Payment—3 Years to Pay

Also free installation for Edison Service customers, over up a few cases due to location.

AT ALL EDISON SHOWS, PLUMBERS AND ELECTRICAL OR CONTRACTOR DEALERS

Boston Edison Golden Jubilee 1886-1936 50 years of service

THE EDISON COMPANY OF BOSTON

THIS IS LIFE

Sports

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

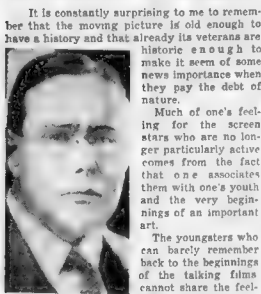

Comics

11

TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1936

ANN MARSTERS IN HOLLYWOOD

By Robert E. Rogers

It is constantly surprising to me to remember that the moving picture is old enough to have a history and that already its veterans are historic enough to make it seem of some news importance when they pay the debt of nature.

Much of one's feeling for the screen stars who are no longer particularly active comes from the fact that one associates them with one's youth and the very beginnings of an important art.

The youngsters who can barely remember back to the beginnings of the talking films cannot share the feelings of those who, like me, have seen them in the heyday of their careers.

Robert E. Rogers without realizing that anything particularly important was happening saw the first American-made photoplays with stock companies whose names and personalities were to become known all over America. The names Biograph, Thanhouser, Essanay, recall those memories.

Mary Pickford is still with us, though less active. David Wark Griffith remains an important legend. The Gish girls and the Talmadge girls have given us ineffaceable memories of the days when movies were made cheap and quickly in Brooklyn with casts recruited from adventurous stock company actors and from the local high school. Anita Stewart, for instance, "The Little Colonel" of "Birth of a Nation."

Of them all, perhaps the most memorable was the "Little Colonel" of the Griffith tradition, whose most important role was played in "The Birth of a Nation." His name was Henry B. Walthall.

Of late years one saw him occasionally on the screen. He was then a youngish man, but never young in the sense that Dick Powell or Richard Cromwell are young. He was short of stature and slight of build. His face was worn, thoughtful, reflective, pensive. One wants to say that he looked like a Southern gentleman of the Civil War period.

That is why he fitted so superbly in the part of the chivalrous little ex-slave who was the hero of "The Birth of a Nation."

I remember seeing him and Pickford and the Gish girls in other, shorter, less expensive, and more ordinary films laid in the Civil War period. I suspect that the Biograph owned a set of 1861 costumes for which they conferred appropriate films.

Touch of Unworldly About His Presence
About his presence was a touch of the unworldly about him. I seem to remember seeing him once in an Edgar-Allen-Poeh kind of film, based, I think, on "The System of Professor Tarr and Professor Feather," wherein he played Fox himself. He had the imagination for that sort of thing and the personality. Other than that I am afraid that I cannot remember him very specifically.

Of late years his roles were usually minor, gentle, and rather self-effacing. He had none of the brashness of later Hollywood types. He could always be safely cast as a "gentleman," the outmoded type.

It is curious to consider the effect which the "Birth of a Nation" had upon its theatre-going generation. It was the first of the epic spectacular films that included Griffith's "Judith of Bethulia," "Intolerance," and that most sensational portion of "Intolerance," "The Fall of Babylon." But these were Biblical or historical, in a word, literary.

First Hero of Screen Quiet Little Gentleman
The "Birth of a Nation" was American and realistic. Based on the Rev. Thomas Dixon's best-selling book "The Clansmen," it owed its power mostly to Griffith's camera sense. His use of the close-up, the flash-back, and of alternate parallel scenes flashed in rapid succession made screen precedents which exist today.

Voice Better Since His Operation, Says Dick Powell

The Boston Evening American presents here with the seventeenth story in a series of intimate glimpses into the life of filmland's capital—ANN MARSTERS IN HOLLYWOOD. Miss Marsters is being given entrée to all of the studios, and is writing her stories from behind the scenes in the land of make-believe. These stories will appear daily.

By ANN MARSTERS

Hollywood, Cal., June 23—If you are one of the fans whose heart goes a-fluttering when a certain Mr. Richard E. Powell begins to croon, come with me to the Warner Brothers studio and we'll meet this young man himself.

They are shooting a scene of "Stage Struck" behind a big "false front" of an apartment house. This is the studio's "New York" street. On both sides are middle-class apartment buildings with sidewalks and fire plugs before them and "rooms to rent" signs in their windows.

It is all very real and New Yorkish looking—until you glance up about four stories and see innumerable huge lamps peering over the stunted roofs.

Dick Finds Nothing Interesting in Self

Behind a particular door is a hall and a stairway. On the stairway sits a pretty girl, and leaning over the banister is Dick Powell. He's saying goodnight to the pretty girl.

They talk of what fun they've had that evening (I think they've been to Coney Island) and it really seems a shame to separate them. But the harsh voice of the girl's landlady booms from above, telling her to hurry up and put the lights.

And that's the end of the scene.

A minute later, Dick Powell and I are sitting, outside on the "New York" sidewalk. Dick is trying to

Kiwanians to Hear Sportsmen Today

Sport, not business, has the floor today as Boston Kiwanians meet in the Ruby Room of the Hotel Touraine with George "Fotey" Clark, veteran football coach, as speaker of the occasion.

The program is one arranged by Al McCoy, representing Northeastern University's annual summer coaching school.

The Kiwanis Club of Boston has given over this meeting to discussion of coaching school activities. "All Kiwanis Night" was celebrated here last evening.

DICK POWELL

Fully recovered from a throat operation that almost ended his career as movie singer, Dick Powell tells Ann Marsters, Boston Evening American feature writer, how scared he was as he stood on the brink of Hollywood extinction. "They wouldn't want me as an actor," he explained. Dick's pride, besides his voice, is his home, where he grows petunias and sometimes cuts the grass. His latest picture is "Stage Struck," with Joan Blondell.

think of something exciting to say about himself—but finally he gives it up. "Guess I'm just ordinary," says he, not at all depressed by such a thought. "I'm just a crooner who made good in Hollywood. But for a while there, I thought my crooning days were over."

Dick stroked his throat, and of course I knew what he meant. For a long time he hasn't been able to sing a note—he's been recovering from what, by now, must be a very famous throat operation. But, the most awful part of it all was, that Dick didn't know, whether or not he'd ever be able to sing again.

"I was scared to death," he said, "and I knew that if I lost my voice, I'd have no one but myself to blame. I never gave my throat a rest, you know. Besides pictures, I was singing over the radio, at various benefits, and here and there and everywhere until my voice simply balked and refused to go on."

Powell Takes Care Of Voice in Future
"I've been an awful fool, but I didn't know it until I was suddenly made to realize that my whole future was on the verge of extinction. I had a chastely feeling of doom, then, because, of course, I'm aware that I'm of very little value as an actor."

"Certainly I wouldn't have done 20 pictures in the four years that I've been in Hollywood if I hadn't been able to sing for my salary."

Dick's voice, I must hasten to tell you, is quite all right now, but he won't be doing very much singing for a while. And never again will he sing as carelessly as he has in the past.

"I've learned my lesson," he said. "I'm not going to be 'good old Dick' who'll sing lither and flither at the slightest request. I'll have to make people understand that I simply can't do it any more."

"But now that I'm getting back to singing, I think my voice is going to be better than ever."

I had heard someone else say that, earlier in the day. It was Dick's girlfriend, Joan Blondell.

They are working in "Stage Struck" together, and that morning Dick had gone around to Joan's dressing room—as he usually does on these lovely California mornings.

And—as usual—he had greeted each other with a smile and a kiss, and Dick had said:

"I'm almost afraid to try my voice this morning for fear it won't do what I want it to."

What of Romance With Lovely Joan?
Joan said:

"Don't you be worrying about it. You're voice is MUCH better than it ever was. Really it is, I've heard it, and I know."

ANN MARSTERS

has a lot of faith in Joan's judgment. Dick's pride, besides his voice, is his home, where he grows petunias and sometimes cuts the grass. His latest picture is "Stage Struck," with Joan Blondell.

So what about the Powell-Blondell romance? Powell admits that he's in love with Joan Blondell—but after all Joan's divorce from George Barnes is not yet final. So how, demands Dick, can he say that he's going to marry Joan when she isn't free to accept him?

Joan's friendship means a great deal to me," he said. "It seems, now, as though I was leading a pretty aimless life in Hollywood before I met her."

I feel sure that some day soon Dick Powell will marry Joan Blondell and take her to his lovely home at Toluca Lake, which is just over the hills from Hollywood.

Dick Likes Chance To Cut Own Grass
Dick's home is his hobby. It's a white, Colonial, but around a wide patio that extends down to a swimming pool. He likes you to ask him about his garden—particularly how the petunias are doing.

They are a popular flower of his home town in Arkansas, and they are Dick's favorite because they are "all mixed up" with his childhood memories.

"They keep me busy pulling weeds," he said, "And I like to mow the lawn now and then—but my gardener resents it."

Besides the gardener, Powell has three servants to keep his home in order. A colored couple, and a Japanese cook.

He gets the utmost enjoyment out of his home and before he began to go dancing with Joan Blondell—his greatest pleasure was to spend his evenings at home with a few friends.

"Anyone can be happy in Hollywood, if he uses his intelligence," he said. "I'm referring, of course, to the movie people. But the trouble is, that many of them try to keep on being the persons they appear to be on the screen—and their existence becomes artificial and (I think) very silly."

"Hollywood has brought me happiness and success—so I think it's the grandest place in the world. And I'm looking forward to more and lasting happiness in the future."

Perhaps he meant that he and Joan, like the prince and princess in the story book, will marry and live happily ever after.

Tomorrow Myrna Loy Tells Ann Marsters about her Hollywood career.

Essex Will Honor Crippled Heroine
June 21—Solomon of Essex, Mass., passed a momentous day today when he gave his first public performance. He was a hero made for a purpose. The 16-year-old cripple, who with his left leg in an iron brace, stood in the Essex River Swimming Pool and recited Joan Blondell's part in "Stage Struck" last night after Paul Eames, 13, died in the same attempt.

The young heroine was also $100 richer today, having received the prize from an unnamed Essex donor. The gift was presented by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association. The gift was presented to the young heroine by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association.

The young heroine was also $100 richer today, having received the prize from an unnamed Essex donor. The gift was presented by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association. The gift was presented to the young heroine by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association.

The young heroine was also $100 richer today, having received the prize from an unnamed Essex donor. The gift was presented by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association. The gift was presented to the young heroine by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association.

The young heroine was also $100 richer today, having received the prize from an unnamed Essex donor. The gift was presented by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association. The gift was presented to the young heroine by Rex Thorne, Jr., Essex's chairman of the Essex River Swimming Pool Association.

GIRL ABOUT TOWN

By Marjorie McBride

Boys still join the navy to see the world, but amateur athletes get around, too, nowadays. No competent athlete feels fully dressed until he has in his pocket a free round-trip ticket to some sports carnival across the country or over the sea.

The tendency toward internationalization of sport makes the early training grand more endurable for the swimmers, weight throwers, runners and hurdlers. The goal is often a trip abroad, everything paid.

This summer, of course, there are the Olympic games. Dozens of young men and women of New England are helping to represent Uncle Sam in Germany. Johnny Kelly of Arlington, Bill McMahon of Worcester and Tazman Brown of Pawtucket will carry the national colors in Olympic Marathon.

Olive Hansen of Needham and Louise Stokes of Malden, both former Olympic contenders, already have traveled extensively as athletes, and quite possibly will be sent to Germany for the track meets.

Nor are all the globe trotters Olympiobound. Sarah Palfrey Fabian of Sharon is in France, taking part in the tennis matches. She will go on to England's Wimbledon. The Olympic hockey team of Boston spent the winter lounging Europe in exhibition matches.

Trips Abroad Good for Nation and for Stars
Francis Ouimet, former caddy at Brookline Golf Club, will captain the Walker Cup team sent to England for the summer.

Sylvia Bronan of Brockton, javelin throwing champion, is likely to be found competing in Germany before the big meet is over.

Old fogies, who love to view with alarm, have criticized the custom of paying expenses, but international sport would be impossible under any other system. Or would be confined to the richest athletes, not the best.

Seldom has an American athlete left his country down while abroad. They're well behaved, and the smartest get the full benefit out of travel, meeting famous people, observing foreign customs at first hand and promoting good will.

Sign outside a bar lounge in a not-too-ritzy section in the Back Bay:

Well, No Man Ever Cooked Pies Mother Made
Pearl Andrews, a Simmons College graduate, is the only woman ever to get the rating of traveling instructor of dining car cookery and service for a railroad. She works for the New Haven and has charge of the road's dining car school in this city.

There's long been a belief men were the only cooks worth having, outside the home, but when Harold Quinlan became superintendent of the dining car department of the road, he decided men chefs were overrated and what his line needed was the female touch.

Miss Andrews, an expert dietitian, has concentrated on unifying and harmonizing the service. When she went to the New Haven she found too many systems of cookery. There were no measuring spoons or cups. Her housewifely soul was shocked, but she's changed all that. A lot of the New Haven cooking is now done by recipe. That is what they taught her in the home economics course at Simmons.

PHONE YOUR NEWS TIPS TO THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN AND SHARE IN $50 CASH AWARDS THAT ARE OFFERED EACH WEEK
Do you want to make some money for being alert? Advertiser are presenting the opportunity. Every week will be given $25 weekly for the best first exclusive news tip received, $10 for the next best, $5 for the next best. If so, the Boston Evening American and the Sunday a total of $50 in prizes will be given for news tips telephoned in to the News Tip Editor at Liberty 4000. There $1 prizes for each of the 10 next most valuable tips.

DANNO 6-5 CHOICE TO PIN ROBERT

RIVALS CLASH TONIGHT AT GARDEN FOR BASKET FUND

Danno O. K.'s Charity

Also Expects to K. O. Robert
In Tonight's Title Defense

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST

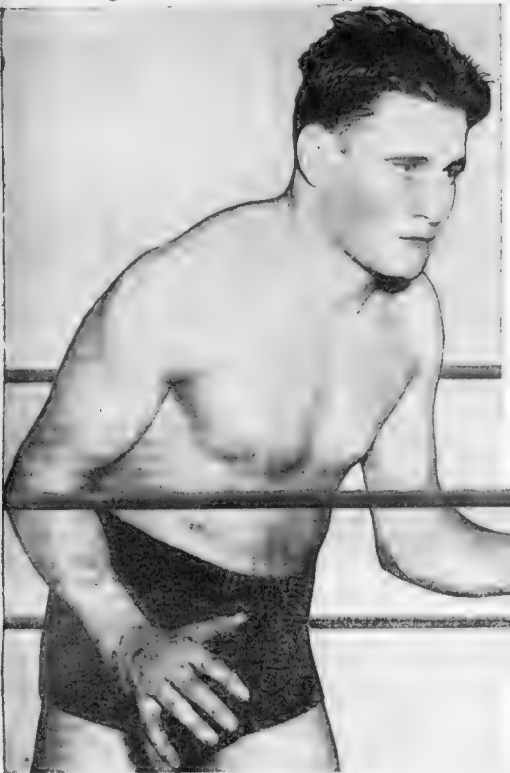

EVENING NEWSPAPER

12

BOSTON, TUESDAY, JUNE 21, 1938

Victory Bound Yvon

Ready to Win Belt and Title
In Boston Garden Match

"MY TITLE IS SAFE" chirps Danno O'Mahony as he is all set to retain his heavyweight wrestling championship at the Boston Garden tonight against Yvon Robert for the Boston Evening American Christmas Basket Fund. Danno is in perfect shape and figures that he is the better man.

AUSTEN LAKE

Sports Jeep Gives Expert Survey of Yvon-Danno Contest

YOUR CONVALESCENT FROM Louis-Schmelting pen poisoning will now render a scholarly opus on the Danno O'Mahony-Yvon Robert tussle at the Boston Garden tonight—if this is Tuesday. This expert in matters of brute muscularity (see my pre-fight dose of last Friday) predicts this will be a terrific onslaught between two lithe, finely trained grizzlies who will chew each other into fuzz and lint and maybe set each other afire by the friction of their motion.

Having seen Robert wrestle only his lighter, go-as-you-please operas, I am free to give expert opinion (see my survey of Schmelting's condition from Napano, N. Y.) that he is in the plush-pink of physical perfection and a superbly good whizz. He is not, by any stretch of fancy, a "White Dope." Nobody is a white dope, only your mournful manipulator of these daffy diatribes.

Today this sports Jeep received in his bushel of morning mail a fan letter written on butcher's wrapping paper, likening the face

"I WON'T FAIL THIS TIME" confidentially says Yvon Robert tonight's challenger, Yvon is the only man who has ever pinned Danno and, in the opinion of many, he should have beaten Danno in both previous meetings. He gets another chance tonight at the title and the diamond belt.

Danno Banks on Whip; Yvon Ready With Fists

CHALLENGER NOT BRIGHT, SAYS GAEL

By Danno O'Mahony
(World's heavyweight champion)
It's a long, long way to Tipperary. I'm an Irishman and I should know. It's a much longer way to the heavyweight championship. This Yvon Robert will know after tonight's battle.

I will beat this French-Canadian kid the same as I did in our first match, but this time it will be more decisive. I do not think the match will keep you up anywhere near all night.

I am always in condition for my matches. I keep that way. But I will go on record right now as saying I have never been anywhere near in as good condition as I am right now and I believe my trainer, Freddie Moran, and the three boys I have been working with will agree with me.

I am sick and tired of hearing Robert yell about how he was pushed in our other matches. I didn't go into any special kind of training for either. This time I cancelled all matches and for two weeks have worked as hard as possible at the Kelly House.

I am in shape to wrestle all night without tiring. If such should be necessary, I am a cinch to outlast Robert. However, I do not believe it will develop into an endurance contest and I do believe I will take him in quick time. For my part I expect to unload all guns and make it a riotous affair from the bell.

I expect to beat Robert with the Toss Up

Experts Split
on Result

Wrestling critics appear pretty well divided as to the outcome of the match between Danno O'Mahony and Yvon Robert at the Boston Garden tonight.

Selections follow:

Paul Bowser, Boston promoter—You can shut your eyes and pick the boys are that evenly matched.

Tom Fack, St. Louis—Like Robert.

Jack Currier, New York—My money will go on the French-Canadian youth.

Jack McGrath, manager of the champion—O'Mahony and it'll be a coast for him.

Edie Quinn, manager of the challenger—It's a toss up.

It's a tough one to dope but I'll take O'Mahony and then shove under the match is over.

Jack McGrath, manager of the champion—O'Mahony and it'll be a coast for him.

Edie Quinn, manager of the challenger—It's a toss up.

It's a tough one to dope but I'll take O'Mahony and then shove under the match is over.

O'MAHONY'S ON WAY OUT, SAYS Foe

By YVON ROBERT
(French-Canadian challenger)
Danno O'Mahony is one of those babies with a chin you like to touch. I touched it in Holyoke, and I enjoyed the sensation, and I'll touch it again tonight.

There'll be plenty of TTT in that touch of mine and it will lay Mr. O'Mahony low and bring the world's heavyweight wrestling championship to me.

I tried out my Sunday punch against John Spillman. It knocked him flat as a balloon floor and they had to lug poor old John to the dressing room.

I'm in splendid condition and really didn't need the last few days in camp. All the time this match was hanging fire I was training in the Canadian wilds, at "Falls" "Naupus" camp, and you can see what it has done for me.

My last match with Danno, when I pinned him for a fall, was called a draw so was the World War. I have beaten him twice, not counting that Holyoke thing, with the record books do not credit me with victory. The only thing I ask is that Referee Sam Smith call it as he sees it, something I do not believe Ted Tonerman or Leon Burbank did.

Totally I am a clean wrestler. I am going to rough that Irishman up as much as I can. I'll confess, I am not like Robert. He is a little bit of a cheat. He is in Holyoke he crashed the canvas as stiff as a board and if they hadn't swept him up he'd be there yet. The same thing will happen to him tonight.

I expect to beat Danno twice in less than 30 minutes by outlasting him.

which usually appears in the upper left-hand ear of this column is a monkey's face. I have never seen that corner cut in this light before, but on close inspection it does look something like a monkey's face at that, which may result from having been submerged in the brine barrel since last Friday at 11:29 p. m. The time barrel is where form experts are dunked in solitary work for the purpose of picking them in their own opinions. This is sometimes called the beggie bungalow and sometimes the dog house.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

I WOULD SAY, IN THE SPIRIT OF humility, that Robert should win this one, unless Danno O'Mahony, who is in the sleek-satin of condition, does not unscrow Yvon's arm with his stump-pulling contortion called the Irish whip.

If Danno does this then he should become the popular favorite and move over Robert's armless torso to triumph.

Barring cloudbursts, hail and fog, the weather for the contest should be clear, the ring dry and the two men, magnificently conditioned male athletes should wrench the gambits out of each other to the complete pleasure of a jam-packed arena of wildly enthusiastic clients, and to that, liable, genial and true blue promoter, Mr. Paul Bowser, whose productions have always afforded the customers a full, honest weight for their money.

I would quote the odds on this berserk struggle at 1 to 1 (see my last Wednesday's quotation of 4000 to 1 on Louis, and a bargain buy at that), with the customer given his pick either way or both. An additional note of confidence comes in the news that the referee is that fearlessly impartial, true-blue character, Sam Smith, who will deal justice off the arm and keep things strictly eugenic with no after-sift or amirch on his reputation for rugged honesty.

NOTHING LIKE NAPANOCH

THE CHAMPION, WHO IS STILL the one and original titleholder despite rumors of having been a snatched victim by certain uncouth racketeers, finished his pre-match studies yesterday at the Kelly House in Nahant, which is a seaside, gem-spotted place with breezes and nuzzled by loxy waves—an oceanic oasis ribbed by a rim of rocks.

Danno is a ripple of muscle with a wasboard stomach, his arms a fine fiber of piano wire and his legs like hitching posts. And when, at the close of his training he raised his arms in a sunny salute to the fashionable crowd which pressed admiration through the ropes, it was with the super-confidence of hale health.

Not at all, my many loving friends, like Max Schmeling's last forlorn gesture at Napano, N. Y., last Wednesday when he lifted his hand in a pathetic farewell before taking his last look on that earth, sky and brook and shuffling off to take his fatal dose from the gingerbread assassin. Max's spar mates had pressed his hand silently with sweet sadness in their faces and turned away with moisture in their eyes. And I, among the gallery of form experts, had left the canvas enclosure for the press contempt, where the woodbine framed the door and the breath of honeysuckle spread its fragrance, feeling as one who had sat in a death watch beside a hangman's scaffold.

Continued on Page 15, Column 3

O'Mahony Made Favorite To Win in Garden Match

GLADIATORS WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

By RINGSIDE
Danno O'Mahony, the sturdy Irishman, whose meteoric climb in wrestling is the marvel of modern sports, tonight faces the toughest assignment.

He will meet Yvon Robert, stubborn French-Canadian challenger, at the Boston Garden for the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser Christmas Basket Fund.

This pair of mat behemoths will collide in a hot-blooded battle. All of which means they will twist the another's bones until the dawn hours of tomorrow if neither has triumphed.

Although in each of their first two skirmishes Robert was a slight betting favorite, the champion today is carrying 6 to 5 odds to triumph. The sudden upset in his favor probably results from the dulling of his training stunts. His drills were more to schedule and tougher than were Robert's sessions.

O'Mahony did not miss a day of conditioning, once he opened training at the Kelly House, at Nahant, nearly two weeks ago. Robert broke training sharply in the middle of last week and went to Montreal to fulfill an engagement with Jack Waburn.

Robert came through the Montreal battle with flying colors. He pinned Waburn in straight falls, but he was forced to miss two days in his training camp.

It is a battle of youth, O'Mahony, in but a few weeks after arrival in America, gained the richest prize of the game, the heavyweight championship. He defeated Jimmy London and others

At Garden Strong Cards Scheduled

In addition to the main bout between Danno O'Mahony and Yvon Robert, the following supporting matches are on the Garden card tonight:

Semifinal—Jimmy Haradon vs. Hermie Olson; Count Zarzycki vs. Hyrie Olson; Frank Judson vs. Boris Hemphill; Tommy Kae vs. Joe Kujala; Henry Flers vs. Charley Webb.

Who had rather unrecognizable claims to the crown.

And there are those among Boston, and the nation's, wrestling fans who will argue he did his job well in each of his first two matches with Danno. Fans blame Referee Ted Tonerman in the first when, they declare, Robert pinned Danno at least 15 times in the last half-hour of warfare. These same fans condemn Leon Burbank, who refereed their second struggle, for not giving Robert what would have been a second fall when, in their opinion, he repeatedly had Danno's shoulders pressed tightly against the canvas.

Sam Smith, physical director of the Boston Y. M. C. A., will be referee tonight. He is selected by T. J. Gleason, president of the American Wrestling Association, which organization forced this battle, when neither Jack McGrath, manager of the champion, nor Edie Quinn, manager of the challenger, would agree upon an official.

Both Danno and Yvon broke training yesterday.

Both wrestlers were pronounced fit by their trainers. They will be weighed in public at dressing room No. 4, Boston Garden, at 10 o'clock this morning.

BASKET FUND SHOW LOOMS AS SELLOUT

With fair and cool weather predicted for Boston and New England, those in charge of the show predict a turndown crowd for the Garden tonight. The advance sale yesterday passed the $100,000 mark. It is believed the show will gross a neat $200,000, which would be less than $100,000 more than the first meeting between the pair attracted.

With a $200,000 crowd, the Boston American Christmas Fund will have a good profit.

Gleason, the A. W. A. president, will present his organization's new belt, emblematic of the world championship, to the winner.

The main event will start about 10 p. m. Payroll: Saving Time. Since it is an indoor attraction, there will be no need for advertising the principal bout ahead of it.

The first preliminary will get under way at 8:30 p. m.

FOR YOUR FAVORITE BAR

Bardays

BAR SPECIAL RYE WHISKY

ALL WHISKY, 90 PROOF, SMOOTH AND MELLOW.

ALL BOTTLED BY BARCLAYS, LTD., DIST. BY THE BOTTLE.

Remember—Bardays is a spirit. Call it up, London, the British, Main.

Mr. Boston

Danno is Pick to Win Go

By Jack Cunneen

SPEAKING OF Danno O'Mahony, who defeated his opponent in a heavyweight wrestling championship against Von Robert at a Christmas Bachel Fund show at the Garden tonight, has booked passage for Ireland on July 12.

O'Mahony will be greeted upon his arrival in Ireland by a committee from his native Ballydeob. He will be accompanied by a number of friends, including his father, John O'Mahony, who is a well-known figure in the community. Danno is expected to spend some time in Ireland before returning to the United States.

Mr. Boston

"Ballydeob is my home," said Danno with deep affection. "I want to go from the heart to my father's home. I am very anxious to greet my father and the other members of my family. After the Ballydeob celebration, I shall go to other parts of Ireland."

"It is likely I shall engage in wrestling bouts in Dublin and in Cork."

Picks Danno

I WAS one of the sports writers to pick Danno O'Mahony as the champion of the world. I was not alone in this. Many other writers and fans picked Danno as the champion. He has lived up to the expectations. He is a true champion and a true Bostonian.

I am as proud of Danno as ever, and believe he will win tonight. He has been training at Nahant for ten days, and is in superb condition. I think he will furnish the greatest moment of his career tonight.

Robert is a good fighter, but Danno is a better one. Danno has the strength and the technique to win. He is the champion of the world, and he will remain so.

Brouillard

LOU BROUILLARD will return to the ring next at Worcester on Friday night when he will collide with Jack Smith of New Bedford in a bout for the New Bedford title.

Max Schuler, who is expected to fight on Thursday at Fenway Park, is a heavyweight contender. Many ring writers agree that Schuler is the best of the heavyweights. He is a true champion and a true Bostonian.

NATIONAL LEAGUE FIELD
Today at 3:00 P. M.
BEEBS vs. CHICAGO
Start at Fenway, 10:00 P. M.

GRIMM FACT: MR. SMITH CHASES CUBS

READY To Annex ANOTHER ROOT HURLS FOR RIVALS

By DAVE EGAN

Mr. Chollie Grimm, mgr., Chicago Cubs, National League Field, Dear Chollie,

Well, Chollie, I see where you got schemed yesterday by the Bees, but do not worry your noggin about it, because you have nothing to worry about.

I understand from reliable sources that an elderly gentleman named Robert Smith is going to be wheeled into the box this afternoon. If you have been around long enough, you may remember him as an infielder and later as a pitcher.

Kind Thought

So now he is ready to enter in your contest. You may have stepped in on a trick, but you may have been tricked. I know that you will have no trouble beating the Bees this afternoon, because your old confidence, wherever, sure is only near the top of the second division. The trick, started for you, my hand-trimming has-

Ready for Bell and Jack Sharkey

"PREACHER PHIL" Brubaker, the new heavyweight k.o. star from the coast, with his manager, Bill Hume, as they appeared at Boston's gymnasium in Quincy where Brubaker made his first appearance here for his bout with Jack Sharkey.

Sport Stamp

When Bill Hume, who is a well-known figure in the community, was seen at the gymnasium in Quincy, he was seen with his manager, Bill Hume, as they appeared at Boston's gymnasium in Quincy where Brubaker made his first appearance here for his bout with Jack Sharkey.

Cowboy Hughes

Protests Bans

When Bill Hume, who is a well-known figure in the community, was seen at the gymnasium in Quincy, he was seen with his manager, Bill Hume, as they appeared at Boston's gymnasium in Quincy where Brubaker made his first appearance here for his bout with Jack Sharkey.

Sport Stamp

When Bill Hume, who is a well-known figure in the community, was seen at the gymnasium in Quincy, he was seen with his manager, Bill Hume, as they appeared at Boston's gymnasium in Quincy where Brubaker made his first appearance here for his bout with Jack Sharkey.

John Quinn Head

John Quinn, secretary of the John Quinn Club, was seen at the gymnasium in Quincy, he was seen with his manager, Bill Hume, as they appeared at Boston's gymnasium in Quincy where Brubaker made his first appearance here for his bout with Jack Sharkey.

BASEBALL

Club	Win	Loss	Pct.
New York	41	20	.672
Boston	36	26	.577
Cleveland	31	30	.508
Chicago	32	31	.508
Washington	31	31	.500
Philadelphia	28	34	.448
St. Louis	28	37	.432

RESULTS YESTERDAY

Club	Win	Loss	Pct.
St. Louis	18	21	.461
Chicago	17	22	.435
Pittsburgh	15	24	.385
New York	14	25	.359
Cincinnati	13	26	.333
Philadelphia	12	27	.308
Boston	11	28	.286

GAMES TODAY

Chicago at Philadelphia
Cincinnati at Brooklyn

CLEAN Sweep at 'KEEPSIE

WASHINGTON U. IN EPIC DRIVE

Poughkeepsie, June 23—University of Washington's husky oarsmen today ruled the intercollegiate rowing world after making a clean sweep of the historic Poughkeepsie regatta.

"Here comes Washington!" was the cry as the Washington team, led by Ted Hume, swept the regatta. The team was composed of some of the best rowers in the country, and they showed no mercy to their opponents.

Nip California

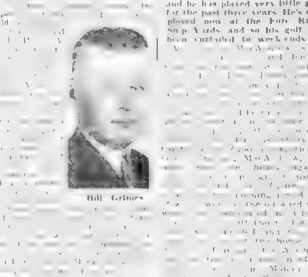

The crew, which sailed to a near victory in the first round, was defeated in the final round. The team was composed of some of the best rowers in the country, and they showed no mercy to their opponents.

FAIRWAYS

Mac Andrew Shows Scarboro Ready For R. I. Quest

By BILL GRINES

Although his arms are not much longer than George Ford's hands, little Charlie MacAndrew is a Herman when it comes to pulling objects—particularly A-1 amateur partners—out of his sleeves.

Belmont Country Club Invitation Seen as Greatest in History

The invitation to the Belmont Country Club is seen as the greatest in the history of the club. The club is one of the most prestigious in the country, and the invitation is a great honor for the recipient.

Composite Baseball Averages

Team	W	L	Pct.
Boston	36	26	.577
New York	41	20	.672
Philadelphia	28	34	.448
St. Louis	28	37	.432
Chicago	32	31	.508
Cleveland	31	30	.508
Washington	31	31	.500

Grove Will Pitch Crucial Contest

By JOE CASHMAN

Detroit, June 23—"Wire Mickey Cochrane to reserve me a room in that Wyoming Sanitarium," Manager Joe Cronin yelled to Trainer "Doc" Logan after an extremely nerve-wrecking inning during the Red Sox-Browns Sunday twin-bill.

RED SOX

Team	W	L	Pct.
Boston	36	26	.577
New York	41	20	.672
Philadelphia	28	34	.448
St. Louis	28	37	.432
Chicago	32	31	.508
Cleveland	31	30	.508
Washington	31	31	.500

PITCHERS' RECORDS

Pitcher	W	L	Pct.
Joe Judge	18	12	.600
Bill Hall	15	15	.500
Doc Logan	12	18	.400
Sam Rice	10	20	.333
Lefty Grove	8	22	.267

Graham McNamee

"I just don't see how Gillette Blades could possibly be equalled in downright shaving comfort"

Gillette Blades
5 for 25¢ - 10 for 49¢

Sordid Cash Squire Sees a Vision

By DAVE EGAN

It is just three years ago this month that a big fellow splashed almost directly in front of me in the Madison Square Garden Pool, and as I looked down my finely chiseled, patrician nose at him, I said to myself, "Well, that is the last you will ever see of the Squire, at least in the ring."

But it seems that he was wrong. At a recent fight in the Madison Square Garden Pool, I saw him again, and he was as big as ever, and as strong as ever, and as fast as ever. He was still the Squire, and he was still the champion.

He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire. He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire. He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire.

Peanut Money

The Squire was boxing for petty cash in his Madison Square Garden engagements, and so they say, treated them with the fine dualism which he shows when he steps a dime off his stool bar and gingerly deposits the cash in his pocket. He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire. He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire.

Good Fight

The Squire Hunter, who will be boxing for the first time against Joe Louis, will be boxing for the first time against Joe Louis. He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire. He was still the champion, and he was still the Squire.

What the Stars Did

By Associated Press
Bump Hadley, Yankees—Hit the relief hurling checked White Paul Derringer and Earl Gooden, Reds—Derringer and Gooden to six hits, two in the first inning. Gooden pitched a perfect game.

Sweeping Reductions in Bus Fares

PARK CO. COACH TERMINAL
106 N. BOSTON ST., TEL. COM 2100
NEW ENGLAND TRANSPORTATION CO.

SPRINT STALLS SET FOR STADIUM MEET

KEANEY Wonderland Dog Says Prancing STEP

BEST DOG AT TAUNTON

By MATTHEW KEANEY
Prancing Step, impressive winner of last week by seven lengths, gets the call tonight in the featured eighth race at the Taunton dog track, a trek offering eight topnotchers over the futuristic distance.

Due to his notable prancing date and his capable placing Prancing Step ranks the best of the night.

Prancing Step, impressive winner of last week by seven lengths, gets the call tonight in the featured eighth race at the Taunton dog track, a trek offering eight topnotchers over the futuristic distance.

Prancing Step

Prancing Step, impressive winner of last week by seven lengths, gets the call tonight in the featured eighth race at the Taunton dog track, a trek offering eight topnotchers over the futuristic distance.

Prancing Step

Prancing Step, impressive winner of last week by seven lengths, gets the call tonight in the featured eighth race at the Taunton dog track, a trek offering eight topnotchers over the futuristic distance.

Prancing Step

Prancing Step, impressive winner of last week by seven lengths, gets the call tonight in the featured eighth race at the Taunton dog track, a trek offering eight topnotchers over the futuristic distance.

Prancing Step

Prancing Step, impressive winner of last week by seven lengths, gets the call tonight in the featured eighth race at the Taunton dog track, a trek offering eight topnotchers over the futuristic distance.

SARAZEN Three Under PAR MAKES COURSE IN FINE 71

By SAM COHEN

REX, 1935-BOLD KID FOR THE RACE
J. J. Keenan's Bold Kid is due to break into the victory brackets and appears to be tops in his fourth race company and the best bet on the 10-card greyhound program at Wonderland Park tonight.

Another classy feature is in store for the fans when Police Court, Turf Traffic, Katherine Darling, Easter John and Country Doctor battle it out for eighth race honors. Police Court in the one must be given up rating on the basis of his race last Saturday out of the same box and over the same distance.

Police Court, Turf Traffic, Katherine Darling, Easter John and Country Doctor battle it out for eighth race honors. Police Court in the one must be given up rating on the basis of his race last Saturday out of the same box and over the same distance.

Police Court

Police Court, Turf Traffic, Katherine Darling, Easter John and Country Doctor battle it out for eighth race honors. Police Court in the one must be given up rating on the basis of his race last Saturday out of the same box and over the same distance.

Police Court

Police Court, Turf Traffic, Katherine Darling, Easter John and Country Doctor battle it out for eighth race honors. Police Court in the one must be given up rating on the basis of his race last Saturday out of the same box and over the same distance.

Police Court

Police Court, Turf Traffic, Katherine Darling, Easter John and Country Doctor battle it out for eighth race honors. Police Court in the one must be given up rating on the basis of his race last Saturday out of the same box and over the same distance.

Police Court

Police Court, Turf Traffic, Katherine Darling, Easter John and Country Doctor battle it out for eighth race honors. Police Court in the one must be given up rating on the basis of his race last Saturday out of the same box and over the same distance.

COLLYER'S SPORT OF KINGS COMMENT

By BERT E. COLLYER

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

DAVID LORRETT, N. Y. TIMES

OLYMPIC Tryouts FRIDAY

WORKOUTS DUE TOMORROW

By WALTER KILEY

Finest of eastern sprinters, all capable of 10.6 or better, are entered in the Olympic semifinal tryouts at Harvard Stadium on Friday and Saturday.

Tryouts are still pouring in. The last will be open until Thursday.

Some of the main new names entered in the dashes, thus far, without competition, are: J. H. Williams of Pittsburgh, International champion; Rossa, a champion; Austin College, a champion; and last but not least, a champion.

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

It is a fact that the United States of America in Berlin in the 1936 Olympic print and the broad

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

Radio Flashes

Philly Broadcasting

Over All Stations

THIMBLE THEATRE, Starring POPEYE

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE By Eugen Sheffer

HORIZONTAL

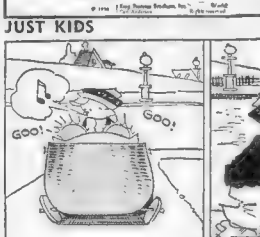

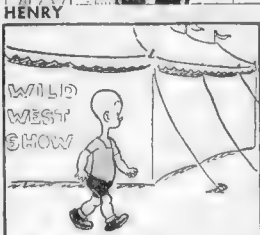

- 1—Undermine
- 4—Animal
- 5—Prepared thigh of a hog
- 12—Tastes
- 13—Aconitum is in what mountain chain?
- 14—Winged part
- 15—What seaport of southwest Ukraine is a famous grain market?
- 17—What is the missing name of the famous German orchestra conductor? Bruno—
- 19—Who is the present Secretary of Agriculture?
- 21—Religious ceremonies
- 22—Part of a church
- 24—Hebrew letter
- 25—Limited
- 26—Cravity
- 30—Prominent ridge in cloth
- 31—Who is the heroine of "The Merchant of Venice"?
- 32—Argument
- 33—Affirmative
- 38—Weep
- 40—Close to China
- 41—Printer's measure
- 42—What planet is between Mercury and the earth?
- 43—What Spanish painter is known as the founder of Cubism?
- 52—Beerle
- 54—What district lies between the Rhine and the Vosges Mountains?
- 55—Cloth measure
- 56—Designation
- 58—Clerical
- 59—Abyssinian prince
- 60—Improper
- 61—Period of time

VERTICAL

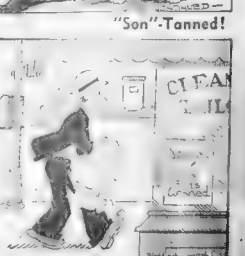

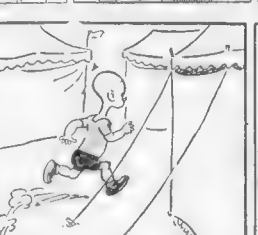

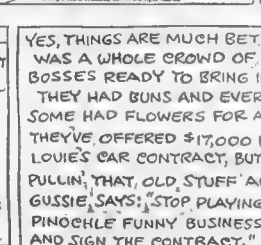

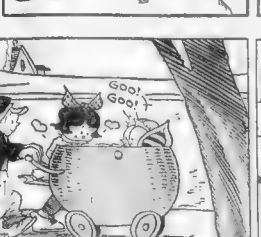

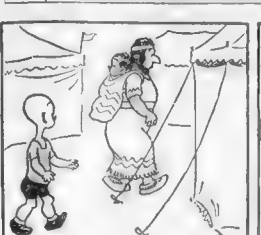

- 1—Display
- 2—Vard opera
- 3—Cut the outside part from
- 4—Pertaining to dark rock of volcanic origin
- 5—Made into law

BRINGING UP FATHER

POLLY AND HER PALS

Join X-9ers; Get Your Badge

Becomes a member of the X-9 Club. Write your name, street number, city or town on plain paper and enclose five cents to pay for handling of badge and membership card.

By return mail you will receive your card and a new shiny badge.

Mail your application to SECRET AGENT X-9, BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, Post Office Box 2094.

SAVING POINT	70	70	70
West Mo 1st pf	70	70	70
Wright Harg (.40%)	2 1/2	2 1/2	2 1/2

warrants, swWith warrants, swWithout
L

COURT RULING
Utilities
CAUSE IS Favored

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial observers, after studying the refusal of the United States District Court of Appeals to grant a stay in holding company cases, believe the outlook for utility shares is distinctly brighter.

In their opinion it means the government will not be allowed to hand pick the case which federal attorneys might there in the best chance of prosecuting.

The suit brought by the government against Electric Bond & Share in New York City, and a lower court has heard a decision on the stay application.

While on the subject of utilities it may be well to give some thought to the situation in the electric utility industry.

Prospects of the best cotton crops in years for the Southeast are showing in the Southern States. While point out in handling the export is only one-half of the story.

Technical analysis shows as yet no signs of a top the balance of the week must be given to the market.

Technical analysis shows as yet no signs of a top the balance of the week must be given to the market.

Technical analysis shows as yet no signs of a top the balance of the week must be given to the market.

STOCK
Prices
EASE
RAILS WORK
LOWER

New York, June 23—Stocks ran the profit taking gauntlet in today's market without serious injury to the majority.

In fact, a few industrial specialties came through with gains of 10 to 20 points.

The market in fact, a few industrial specialties came through with gains of 10 to 20 points.

Political, foreign affairs and economic developments kept analysts busy—searching for helpful to recovery sentiment.

Political, foreign affairs and economic developments kept analysts busy—searching for helpful to recovery sentiment.

Political, foreign affairs and economic developments kept analysts busy—searching for helpful to recovery sentiment.

Political, foreign affairs and economic developments kept analysts busy—searching for helpful to recovery sentiment.

Political, foreign affairs and economic developments kept analysts busy—searching for helpful to recovery sentiment.

QUOTATIONS TO 2:30

Stock	High	Low	Close
Am. Express	112 1/2	112 1/2	112 1/2
Am. Tobacco	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sugar	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Oil	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gas	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Electric	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Water	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Telephone	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Paper	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Textile	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Lumber	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Iron	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Steel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Coal	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Copper	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Lead	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zinc	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tin	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Gold	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Platinum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Nickel	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Aluminum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Magnesium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Potassium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Sodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Calcium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Barium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Strontium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Bismuth	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Antimony	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Arsenic	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tellurium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Selenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Manganese	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Vanadium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Chromium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Molybdenum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Cobalt	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Niobium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Tantalum	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Zirconium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Hafnium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Ruthenium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Rhodium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Palladium	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2
Am. Silver	111 1/2	111 1/2	111 1/2

Today's Text: "Nevertheless I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me."—Galatians 2:20.
Suggested by the Rev. Dr. E. Bruce Price, First Baptist Church, Fitchburg.